Living on the Edge Susan Snyman, Kelly S. Bricker, 2021-05-06 Tourism has an essential role in terms of contributing to the financial sustainability of protected areas In addition through effective and efficient benefit sharing tourism can positively impact numerous stakeholders within and beyond the protected area Living on the Edge Benefit Sharing from Protected Area Tourism highlights the complexity of benefit sharing the importance of identifying all relevant stakeholders the challenges of ensuring equity and sustainability and the critical importance of good governance The evolution of benefit sharing mechanisms over time also emphasizes a continuing need to evolve and adapt to each unique situation as much evidence indicates that little has changed for those living on the edge Although this book focuses on benefit sharing from protected area tourism it is essential to acknowledge that along with these benefits are costs associated with tourism including possible increased local prices loss of access to land human wildlife conflict and other related costs The contributing authors agree that benefit sharing must include good governance accountability equity transparency a broad reach of stakeholder engagement and a robust combination of tangible and intangible benefits with recognition that benefit sharing systems need to be adaptive and evolve as needed

according to the relevant situation The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Sustainable Tourism Tourism, Travel, and Hospitality in a Smart and Sustainable World Vicky Katsoni,2023-05-26 This book features the second volume of the proceedings of the 9th International Conference of the International Association of Cultural and Digital Tourism IACuDiT Held at the Syros Island in Greece in September 2022 the conference s lead theme was Tourism Travel and Hospitality in a Smart and Sustainable World With a full appreciation of the contributions made by numerous writers toward the progress in tourism research this book presents a critical academic discourse on sustainable practices in a smart tourism context stimulating future debates and advancing knowledge and understanding in this critical area of knowledge It also puts emphasis on the knowledge economy and smart destinations notion It enacts new modes of tourism management and development and presents chapters on cultural heritage tourism emerging technologies and tourism consumer behaviour such as tourism education location based services Internet of Things smart cities mobile services gamification digital collections and the virtual visitor social media social networking and augmented reality

Sustainable Urban Tourism in Sub-Saharan Africa Llewellyn Leonard,Regis Musavengane,Pius Siakwah,2020-12-27 This book investigates urban tourism development in Sub Saharan Africa highlighting the challenges and risks involved but also showcasing the potential benefits Whilst much is written on Africa s rural environments little has been written about the tourism potential of the vast natural cultural and historical resources in the continent s urban areas Yet these opportunities also come with considerable environmental social and political challenges This book interrogates the interactions between urban risks tourism and sustainable development in Sub Saharan African urban spaces It addresses the underlying issues of governance power ownership collaboration justice community empowerment and policies that influence tourism decision making at local national and regional levels Interrogating the intricate relationships between tourism stakeholders this book ultimately reflects on how urban risk can be mitigated and how sustainable urban tourism can be harnessed for development The important insights in this book will be of interest to researchers and practitioners across Tourism Geography Urban Development and African Studies Bombardier Abroad David P. Thomas,2018-10-10T00:00:00Z In Bombardier Abroad Thomas examines several cases of the Canadian aerospace giant s work in the high speed rail sector in South Africa China Tibet and Israel Palestine and argues that these projects are deepening existing social and political tensions By participating in these infrastructure projects Thomas argues Bombardier is both inserting itself into highly contested social and political climates and profiting from actions that further exacerbate existing conditions of dispossession and inequality Thomas also examines the various ways in which the Canadian state supports the work of Bombardier in these countries Centred around a theoretical framework that combines concepts of dispossession political economy and important interventions from the field of settler colonial studies Bombardier Abroad is a critical look at the problematic practices of a Canadian corporation and the ways in which the Canadian state is culpable Public-Private Partnerships in Africa Thekiso Molokwane,Muhiya

Tshombe Lukamba,Alex Nduhura,Innocent Nuwagaba,2023-12-06 In the twenty first century governments around the world began to engage the private sector with the objective of achieving public service delivery targets and the African continent has as such been experiencing transformation particularly since the introduction of public private partnerships PPP as a measure of reform and method of procurement Unfortunately there is a mixed bag of successes and challenges through this implementation of PPPs causing a gap in infrastructure leaving more than 640 million Africans without access to energy

Muhiya Tshombe Lukamba Thekiso Molokwane Alex Nduhura and Innocent Nuwagaba in Public Private Partnerships in Africa Exploring Africa s Growth Potential explore ways in which the government can collaborate with the private sector in order to close these gaps The chapters analyze the implementation of PPPs and provide case studies on the use of PPPs in different African countries and industry sectors This book unearths new findings on PPPs within Africa and provides solutions that are beneficial to scholars the government and the PPP industry through the theoretical underpinning of various contemporary issues

The Changing Space Economy of City-Regions Koech Cheruiyot,2017-10-30 This book addresses the South African Space Economy and its stark disparities and dualisms through an assessment of the Gauteng City Region the largest economic agglomeration in the country and on a continent bedevilled by a myriad of development challenges The book s focus on understanding the overall character of Gauteng City Region s Space Economy through data mining analysis and mapping comprehensively supplements the Space Economy literature on the region It covers the disparities exacerbated by an overlay of apartheid planning ideology and top down regional development based on selective encouragement of manufacturing investments in growth points or poles and how implementation of past policies intended to cure these disparities have yielded mixed results This book further offers the Gauteng City Region as a microcosm of the national economy in the form of evident significant placed based variations in the intensity and character of economic structure that on the one hand enjoys massive agglomeration economies while on the other has high levels of poverty and large numbers of people living below the Minimum Living Level This book should appeal to urban studies specialists economists and development studies researchers in the Global South

Smart Urbanism Simon Marvin,Andrés Luque-Ayala,Colin McFarlane,2015-12-14 Smart Urbanism SU the rebuilding of cities through the integration of digital technologies with buildings neighbourhoods networked infrastructures and people is being represented as a unique emerging solution to the majority of problems faced by cities today SU discourses enacted by technology companies national governments and supranational agencies alike claim a supremacy of urban digital technologies for managing and controlling infrastructures achieving greater effectiveness in managing service demand and reducing carbon emissions developing greater social interaction and community networks providing new services around health and social care etc Smart urbanism is being represented as the response to almost every facet of the contemporary urban question This book explores this common conception of the problematic of smart urbanism and critically address what new capabilities are being created by whom and with what exclusions how these are being developed and contested where is this happening both within and between cities and with what sorts of social and material consequences The aim of the book is to identify and convene a currently fragmented and disconnected group of researchers commentators developers and users from both within and outside the mainstream SU discourse including several of those that adopt a more critical perspective to assess what problems of the city smartness can address The volume provides the first internationally comparative assessment of SU in cities of the global north and south critically evaluates whether current visions of SU are able to achieve their potential and then identifies alternative trajectories for SU that hold radical promise for reshaping cities Where do we draw the line?

Alexandra Parker, Samkelisiwe Khanyile, Kate Joseph, 2019-03-29 Graffiti is a controversial subject and fraught with ambiguities and contradictions However the recent global success of artists such as Banksy Melbourne's booming graffiti tourism and the rise of the creative city discourse have blurred the lines between what some regard as vandalism and some as public art As such graffiti has increasingly become part of mainstream culture and in some countries has been promoted as a contributor to the urban environment Thus as practices and perceptions of graffiti shift so does our need to better understand the role of graffiti in our urban environments Through a case study of the Maboneng precinct this GCRO Occasional Paper investigates the contribution made by graffiti to tourism and public and private investment in the inner city of Johannesburg The paper uses visual and spatial analyses of graffiti in Maboneng's development The research shows the extent to which the Maboneng precinct is branded through urban aesthetics including graffiti and demonstrates that graffiti contributes to placemaking by creating meaningful or identifiable spaces The analysis reveals graffiti's aesthetic value in the urban environment it signifies the redevelopment of Maboneng distinguishes the area at a local level from surrounding spaces and also projects a global aesthetic Using this case study of Maboneng we hope to show how graffiti is leveraged in nurturing urban development creative economies and tourism in the inner city The Occasional Paper is comprised of two parts The first half of the paper aims to understand the role of graffiti in its urban context A first section examines the history of graffiti considering centuries old traditions of markings on walls the intersection of graffiti with the birth of hip hop culture and in the South African context the role of graffiti in anti apartheid protest politics A further section explores the spectrum of graffiti aesthetics from text based expressions to the murals of street art A third section traces graffiti's complicated relationship to the urban environment with changing perceptions of graffiti as vandalism or a mode of urban dialogue or a form of outdoor gallery The sections in this first half of the paper explore the transitions graffiti has made over time and highlight the fluid nature of graffiti both in space and in the way that it is conceived They illustrate how graffiti once perceived as synonymous with urban blight and decay vandalism and crime has over time gained a more legitimate social status for example through commissioned murals or the work of famed international artists in the process raising the question of who decides the aesthetic of the urban environment and who has a right to participate in the production of urban space In the second half of the paper we focus on a case study of Maboneng in the City of Johannesburg Maboneng is an area of redevelopment in Johannesburg s inner city established in 2009 The neighbourhood has transformed through investment in the public environment and the upgrading of dozens of buildings with a focus on the creative economy Graffiti and street art are prevalent in the area and have contributed to the branding of the area as a creative space Through a photographic essay and mapping we analyse the spatial and visual elements of graffiti in Maboneng exploring its various contradictions themes surfaces and the media used to create it The detailed mapping examines different types of graffiti and their locality density scale and visibility The case study shows in detail the relationship between graffiti and the local urban environment but also how graffiti relates to larger processes of urban and economic development in the city
