of this book is that the authors speak directly to you the mathematics teachers. The authors attempt to draw you into a continuous dialogue about activities you are asked to engage in as learners. You are asked to do something and through doing and reflecting you will gain first hand experience of new approaches and materials. In this way you can learn to teach applicable mathematics to your students using your own experience as learners of applicable mathematics motivated and supported by the book. Here applicable mathematics education is the phrase we use to describe reality based mathematics education. Reality based mathematics relies heavily on problem solving and a positive disposition to engage with mathematics. Modelling reality and simulating selected aspects of reality are other pillars of reality based mathematics education.

Understanding the Math You Teach Anita C. Burris, 2005. Teaching strategies are grounded in the NCTM standards and illustrated with real student work. In addition, the author provides a full range of concrete developmental activities that encourage future teachers to make math make sense for themselves as well as for their students. Believing that teachers who are comfortable with mathematics develop learners who are comfortable with mathematics, this author empowers preservice preK-4 teachers to teach math confidently by laying a solid foundation of math concepts and building on that foundation with engaging, meaningful, standards-based teaching methods. Integrated in this unique combined approach to teaching mathematics is a thorough discussion of math manipulatives as well as the use of technology, computer, and otherwise to assist today's mathematics teacher. For educators, aides, and parents responsible for teaching Pre-K to fourth grade math.
