Lesson Study Research and Practice in Mathematics Education

Lynn C. Hart, Alice S. Alston, Aki Murata, 2011-01-11 Lesson study is a professional development process that teachers engage in to systematically examine their practice with the goal of becoming more effective Originating in Japan lesson study has gained significant momentum in the mathematics education community in recent years As a process for professional development lesson study became highly visible when it was proposed as a means of supporting the common practice of promoting better teaching by disseminating documents like standards benchmarks and nationally validated curricula While the body of knowledge about lesson study is growing it remains somewhat elusive and composed of discrete research endeavors As a new research area there is no coherent knowledge base yet This book will contribute to the field bringing the work of researchers and practitioners together to create a resource for extant work This book describes several aspects of Lesson Study amongst others it gives an historical overview of the concept it addresses issues related to learning and teaching mathematics it looks at the role of the teacher in the process The last two sections of the book look at how lesson

Study can be used with preservice mathematics teachers and at university mathematics methods teaching dear elia Mimi Khúc,2023-12-11 In dear elia Mimi Khúc revolutionizes how we understand mental health Khúc traces the contemporary Asian American mental health crisis from the university into the maw of the COVID 19 pandemic reenvisioning mental health through a pedagogy of unwellness the recognition that we are all differentially unwell In an intimate series of letters she bears witness to Asian American unwellness up close and invites readers to recognize in it the shapes and sources of their own unwellness Khúc draws linkages between student experience the Asian immigrant family the adjunctification of the university and teaching methods pre and post COVID 19 to illuminate hidden roots of our collective unwellness shared investments in compulsory wellness and meritocracy She reveals the university as a central node and engine of unwellness and argues that we can no longer do Asian American studies without Asian American mental health and vice versa Interspersed throughout the book are reflective activities including original tarot cards that enact the very pedagogy Khúc advances offering readers alternative ways of being that divest from structures of unwellness and open new possibilities for collective care Tell Me a Story Anthony Tate Fulton,Christopher B. Field,Michael MacBride,2017-09-25 Stories have great power This book attempts to harness that power to help students grow and develop as writers It argues that stories and narratives can be utilized in the composition classroom specifically first year composition FYC to break down barriers Throughout a given semester stories and narratives can help students in composition courses to overcome academic personal and creative barriers establishing a space for developing as writers and thinkers Providing theoretical approaches practical methods and implications for using stories in FYC this book explores the versatility of stories as teaching tools

Developing Reflective TESOL Practitioners Through Teacher Education Andrzej Cirocki,Mark Wyatt,Xuesong (Andy) Gao,2024-06-26 This textbook provides insights from Asian contexts into how reflective practice is nurtured on Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages TESOL and English Language Teaching ELT teacher education programmes There is increasing recognition worldwide that given the centrality of reflective practice to teachers ongoing professional development supporting teachers to become reflective practitioners should be integral to teacher education programmes Consequently tertiary level courses in areas such as TESOL and ELT tend to promote reflective practice supported by theoretical input from the burgeoning literature on reflection much of which is produced in the West Relatively under represented in the literature are global perspectives on reflective practice there are consequently relatively few accounts as to how reflective practice is embedded in teacher education programmes in different parts of the world including Asia Hence this book addresses a gap Contributing authors from fourteen countries provide insights into the ways in which teachers are helped to grow as reflective practitioners on their teacher education programmes in their unique contexts This textbook showcases how reflective teaching practices are developed supported by frameworks for critical reflection and in interaction with local educational policies These distinctive accounts aid readers in reflecting on the ways in which reflective practice is supported in their own teacher education contexts and in considering ways of enhancing the reflective dimension of their programmes This textbook showcases innovative reflective activities and can be used as a principal text or as supplemental reading on a range of TESOL and ELT teacher education courses A Rhetoric of Reflection Kathleen Yancey, 2016-08-15

Reflection in writing studies is now entering a third generation Dating from the 1970s the first generation of reflection focused on identifying and describing internal cognitive processes assumed to be part of composing The second generation operating in both classroom and assessment scenes in the 1990s developed mechanisms for externalizing reflection making it visible and thus explicitly available to help writers Now a third generation of work in reflection is emerging As mapped by the contributors to A Rhetoric of Reflection this iteration of research and practice is taking up new questions in new sites of activity and with new theories It comprises attention to transfer of writing knowledge and practice teaching and assessment portfolios linguistic and cultural difference and various media including print and digital It conceptualizes conversation as a primary reflective medium both inside and outside the classroom and for individuals and collectives and articulates the role that different genres play in hosting reflection Perhaps most important in the work of this third generation is the identification and increasing appreciation of the epistemic value of reflection of its ability to help make new meanings and of its rhetorical power for both scholars and students Contributors Anne Beaufort Kara Taczak Liane Robertson Michael Neal Heather Ostman Cathy Leaker Bruce Horner Asao B Inoue Tyler Richmond J Elizabeth Clark Naomi Silver Christina Russell McDonald Pamela Flash Kevin Roozen Jeff Sommers Doug Hesse
