Dan Lyons, 2018-10-23 New York Times bestselling author Dan Lyons exposes how the new oligarchs of Silicon Valley have turned technology into a tool for oppressing workers in this passionate Kirkus and darkly funny Publishers Weekly examination of workplace culture At a time of soaring corporate profits and plenty of HR lip service about wellness millions of workers in virtually every industry are deeply unhappy Why did work become so miserable Who is responsible And does any company have a model for doing it right For two years Lyons ventured in search of answers From the innovation crazed headquarters of the Ford Motor Company in Detroit to a cult like Holocracy workshop in San Francisco and to corporate trainers who specialize in Legos Lyons immersed himself in the often half baked and frequently lucrative world of what passes for management science today He shows how new tools workplace practices and business models championed by tech s empathy impaired power brokers have shattered the social contract that once existed between companies and their employees These dystopian beliefs often masked by pithy slogans like We re a Team Not a Family have dire consequences millions of workers who are subject to constant change dehumanizing technologies even health risks A few companies however get it right With Lab Rats Lyons makes a passionate plea for business leaders to understand this dangerous transformation showing how profit and happy employees can indeed coexist The Lab David Edwards, David A Edwards, 2011-02-28 The Lab explains the idea of the culture lab Edwards concept for experimental art and design centers like those he recently founded in Paris and at Harvard He presents the lab as a new kind of educational art studio based on a contemporary science lab model and he shows how students learn by translating ideas alongside experienced creators by exhibiting risky experimental processes in gallery settings A Lab of My Own Neena B.
