Due to its short half-life of about 100 s, it cannot be used as the working gas in gas lasers. The ground  $^1S_0$  state is ionized by the laser light and the ionized atoms are removed from the laser medium. The ionization cross-section is about  $10^{-16}$  cm<sup>2</sup>. The ionization rate is about  $10^{10}$  s<sup>-1</sup>. The ionization rate is about  $10^{10}$  s<sup>-1</sup>. The ionization rate is about  $10^{10}$  s<sup>-1</sup>.

Conclusion: The results of this study suggest that the use of the modified 30-second sit-to-stand test is a valid and reliable measure of lower extremity strength in older adults.

Murder Stories Paul Kaplan, 2012-01-16 Murder Stories engages with the current theoretical debate in death penalty research on the role of cultural commitments to American ideologies in the retention of capital punishment The central aim of the study is to illuminate the elusive yet powerful role of ideology in legal discourses Through analyzing the content and processes of death penalty narratives this research illuminates the covert life of the American Creed a nexus of ideologies liberty egalitarianism individualism populism and laissez faire said to be unique to the United States in the law Murder Stories draws on the entire record of California death sentence resulting trials from three large and diverse California counties for the years 1996 2004 as well as interviews with 26 capital caseworkers attorneys judges and investigators from the same counties Employing the theoretical framework proposed by Ewick and Silbey 1995 to study hegemonic and subversive narratives and also the ethnographic approach advocated by Amsterdam and Hertz 1992 to study the producers and processes of constructing legal narratives this book traces the ideological content carried within the stories told by everyday practitioners of capital punishment by investigating the content process and ideological implications of these narratives The central theoretical finding is that the narratives constructed by both prosecutors and defenders tend to instantiate rather than subvert the ideological tenets of the American Creed

Truth from a Lie Margaret Key, 2011-05-05 Critics typically regard Abe Kobo 1924 93 as writing against realism due to his avant garde aesthetics that challenged the Naturalist realism dominating the literary mainstream and the Socialist realism of the orthodox Left in postwar Japan He considered his work thoroughly realist however and starting in the early 1950s in a series of avant garde art and literary groups he championed the possibility of a vital contemporary realism that challenged the reader to question the reality represented in the text through increasingly self conscious writing strategies Through a reassessment of the texts in which he worked out his theory of realism this study traces the development of his commitment to making truth from a lie to fiction drama and reportage that openly display their artifice Key argues that the reflexivity of Abe's texts which lay bare their own processes of artificial construction in order to reflect how our everyday sense of reality is constructed and maintained created a critical space for metatextual ideas that were not acknowledged by the literary establishment of his time and have yet to be recognized by critics today Undergirding his theory and practice of realism was a critique of conventional documentary and of the classic detective story The texts examined here expose the degree to which the documentarian and the detective are active fabricators of meaning rather than neutral observers of fact By paying close attention to the tension between the documentary and the fictive in Abe's works Key draws out the ethical implications of his documentary approach arguing persuasively that the documentary qualities of his writing such as its valorization of objectivity over psychologism and the realm of concrete things over abstraction are strategies for challenging the dominant assumptions about what constitutes good ethics and good art as well as the relationship between these two spheres Truth from a Lie explores the ways in which Abe put documentary and the de The New Entrepreneurs Jon Kraszewski,2011-02-01 According to the sociologist C Wright Mills in his 1951 book White Collar The American Middle Classes the new entrepreneur was a lone wolf able to succeed in post World War II corporate America by elusively meandering through various institutions During this time anthology writers such as Rod Serling Reginald Rose and Paddy Chayefsky achieved a level of creativity that has rarely been equaled on television since Yet despite their success anthology writers still needed to evade the constraints and censorship of 50s television in order to stay true to their creative powers and political visions Thus they worked as new entrepreneurs who adapted their more controversial scripts for the Hollywood Broadway and book publishing industries Even after the television networks cancelled their prestigious anthology series at the end of the 50s the most resilient writers were able to redefine what it meant to be entrepreneurs by launching cutting edge shows such as The Twilight Zone and The Defenders that are still popular today The New Entrepreneurs includes detailed textual analysis of legendary sometimes hard to find television anthology scripts that have received only cursory glances in television history until now Ebook Edition Note All images have been redacted Rob Wagner's Beverly Hills Script ,1933 *Cain v. Interpretive Play Anna O. Soter, Mark Faust, Theresa M. Rogers, 2008-01-01 Social Studies for Secondary Schools Alan J. Singer, 2003-04-02. Social Studies for Secondary Schools Teaching to Learn Learning to Teach Second Edition integrates discussions of educational goals and the nature of history and social studies with practical ideas for organizing social studies curricula, units, lessons, projects, and activities. A major theme woven throughout the text is that what we choose to teach and the way we teach reflect our broader understanding of society, history, and the purposes of social studies education. Each chapter opens with a broad question about social studies education, provides many examples of lessons, including lesson ideas developed by new and experienced middle school and high school social studies teachers, features a rich variety of teaching, learning, and classroom activities designed to provoke discussion and illustrate different approaches to teaching social studies, and concludes with essays about related social studies topics. Part I focuses on philosophical issues, social studies goals and standards, and the design of social studies curricula. Part II examines and offers examples of strategies for planning units and lessons. Part III explores topics such as thematic and interdisciplinary teaching, a project approach to social studies, as well as assessing student learning and one's own performance as a teacher, and provides a guide to social studies resource materials and organizations. New in the Second Edition: Every chapter has been updated and includes a number of new lesson ideas. The lesson ideas are designed especially to help beginning teachers address learning standards, work in inclusive settings, and promote literacy and the use of technology in social studies classrooms. Sample activities developed with members of the Hofstra New Teachers Network reflect the current focus on document-based instruction and assessment and can serve as tools for assessing student learning. Increased attention is given to project-based social studies instruction and to multicultural education. Intended as a text for undergraduate and graduate preservice social studies methods courses, this text is also useful for in-service training programs as a reference for new social studies teachers and as a resource for experienced social studies educators who are engaged in rethinking their teaching practice.
