Understanding Islam and the West Nathan Lean, 2018-03-26 As the world's second largest faith and by some accounts the most fast growing Islam is often at the forefront of intense public conversation in debates about politics international relations globalization modern society and culture From the rise of ISIS and revolutions in North Africa and Middle East to more tempered discussions about what it means to be a Muslim in the West and foreign policy making this student focused textbook unpacks how we talk about and represent Islam its place in and relationship to the West Supported by an accessible introduction real world case studies a glossary of terms and discussion points at the end of each chapter Nathan Lean offers students a comprehensive and alternative framework to Islam and the West in the 21st Century Islam in the West Yinka Olomjobi, 2023-10-18 The evolution of Islam in the West and the utopian ideology of radical Muslims have ushered in political discussion in the international sphere This book investigates the transposition of relevance from the West to Muslim civilization and the construction of reality of Muslims identity in Western societies It explores different facets of Muslims and multiculturalism in constructing Muslims identity in Western societies To this end this book focuses on evolving perceptions on Muslims in the West It does this by explaining and evaluating the symbiotic relationship between Islam and the West In particular it analyses the behaviour of Muslims and their pursuance of the concept of religious nationalism within Western societies The central aim of this study is to explore the difficulties in the assimilation and integration of Muslims in Western societies It will be useful for political scientists religious scholars and enquirers into Islam in Western societies Islam Through Western Eyes Jonathan Lyons, 2014-01-01 Despite the West's growing involvement in Muslim societies conflicts and cultures its inability to understand or analyze the Islamic world threatens any prospect for East West rapprochement Impelled by one thousand years of anti Muslim ideas and images the West has failed to engage in any meaningful or productive way with the world of Islam Formulated in the medieval halls of the Roman Curia and courts of the European Crusaders and perfected in the newsrooms of Fox News and CNN this anti Islamic discourse determines what can and cannot be said about Muslims and their religion trapping the West in a dangerous dead end politics that it cannot afford In Islam Through Western Eyes Jonathan Lyons unpacks Western habits of thinking and writing about Islam conducting a careful analysis of the West's grand totalizing narrative across one thousand years of history He observes the discourse's corrosive effects on the social sciences including sociology politics philosophy theology international relations security studies and human rights scholarship He follows its influence on research speeches political strategy and government policy preventing the West from responding effectively to its most significant twenty first century challenges the rise of Islamic power the emergence of religious violence and the growing tension between established social values and multicultural rights among Muslim immigrant populations Through the intellectual archaeology of Michel Foucault Lyons reveals the workings of this discourse and its underlying impact on our social intellectual and political lives He then addresses issues of deep concern to Western readers Islam and modernity Islam and violence and Islam and women and proposes new ways of thinking about the Western relationship to the Islamic world Indian Muslim Minorities and the 1857 Rebellion Ilyse R. Morgenstein Fuerst, 2017-08-14 While jihad has been the subject of countless studies in the wake of recent terrorist attacks scholarship on the topic has so far paid little attention to South Asian Islam and more specifically its place in South Asian history Seeking to fill some gaps in the historiography Ilyse R Morgenstein Fuerst examines the effects of the 1857 Rebellion long taught in Britain as the Indian Mutiny on debates about the issue of jihad during the British Raj Morgenstein Fuerst shows that the Rebellion had lasting pronounced effects on the understanding by their Indian subjects whether Muslim Hindu or Sikh of imperial rule by distant outsiders For India's Muslims their interpretation of the Rebellion as jihad shaped subsequent discourses definitions and codifications of Islam in the region Morgenstein Fuerst concludes by demonstrating how these perceptions of jihad contextualised within the framework of the 19th century Rebellion continue to influence contemporary rhetoric about Islam and Muslims in the Indian subcontinent Drawing on extensive primary source analysis this unique take on Islamic identities in South Asia will be invaluable to scholars working on British colonial history India and the Raj as well as to those studying Islam in the region and beyond New Approaches to Islam in Film Kristian Petersen, 2021-04-26 Many global film industries fail in expanding the role of Muslims on screen Too often they produce a dichotomy between good and bad Muslims limiting the narrative domain to issues of national security war and terrorism Naturally much of the previous scholarship on Muslims in film focused on stereotypes and the politics of representation This collection of essays from an international panel of contributors significantly expands the boundaries of discussion around Muslims in film asking new questions of the archive and magnifying analyses of particular cultural productions The volume includes the exploration of regional cinemas detailed analysis of auteurs and individual films comparison across global cinema and new explorations that have not yet entered the conversation The interdisciplinary collection provides an examination of the multiple roles Islam plays in film and the various ways Muslims are depicted Across the chapters key intersecting themes arise that push the limits of how we currently approach issues of Muslims in cinema and ventures to lead us in new directions for future scholarship This book adds new depth to the matrix of previous scholarship by revisiting methodological structures and sources as well as exploring new visual geographies transnational circuits and approaches It reframes the presiding scholarly conventions in five novel trajectories considering new sources exploring new communities probing new perspectives charting new theoretical directions and offering new ways of understanding conflict in cinema As such it will be of great use to scholars working in Islamic Studies Film Studies Religious Studies and Media Veiled Superheroes Sophia Rose Arjana,2017-11-01 This groundbreaking study examines Muslim female superheroes within a matrix of Islamic theology feminism and contemporary political discourse Through a close reading of texts including Ms Marvel Qahera and The 99 Sophia Rose Arjana argues that these powerful and iconic characters reflect independence and agency reflecting the diverse lives of Muslim girls and women in the world today Re-Inventing Islam Deanna Ferree Womack,2025 From the end of the American Civil War to the start of World War II the Protestant missionary movement unintentionally tilled the soil in which American Islamophobia would eventually take root What ideas did missionaries in Islamic contexts pass on to later generations How were these ideas connected to centuries old Protestant discourses about Muslims and gender beginning in the Reformation And what bearing does this history have on the birth of Islamophobia and on Christian Muslim dialogue efforts in the US today In answering these questions Re inventing Islam traces the gender constructs that have informed historical Protestant perceptions of Islam especially in the far reaching textual visual and material influences of the American and British movement for missions to Muslims This book first considers Protestant discourse about Muslim women and men from the Reformation to the Enlightenment Then it turns to the colossal archive of literature images and cultural objects that missionaries and particularly missionary women collected from Islamic contexts and used to inform and motivate their constituents Anglo Protestants in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries perpetually re invented stereotypes about Muslims and used these negative images to achieve particular Protestant theological and political purposes including missionary aims They did so when disseminating gender critiques widely to Protestant men women and children Why did they re invent Islam Deanna Ferree Womack argues that they did so to reinforce Protestant theological claims to justify their evangelistic endeavors to express both humanitarian concern and Eurocentric views of the world and to support British and American cultural economic and military expansion Simultaneously however this same missionary movement educated its constituents about diverse Islamic cultures in part by providing humanizing images of Islam Missionaries also formed personal relationships with Muslims that would open pathways toward formal efforts of Christian Muslim dialogue after the mid twentieth century Americans have inherited all of these legacies In revisiting this history readers will find new possibilities for building a more open and just future Journeys into Terror Cynthia J. Miller,A. Bowdoin Van Riper,2023-05-15 Since ancient times explorers and adventurers have captured popular imagination with their frightening narratives of travels gone wrong Usually these stories heavily feature the exotic or unknown and can transform any journey into a nightmare Stories of such horrific happenings have a long and rich history that stretches from folktales to contemporary media narratives This work presents eighteen essays that explore the ways in which these texts reflect and shape our fear and fascination surrounding travel posing new questions about the geographies of evil and how our notions of terrible places and their inhabitants change over time The volume s five thematic sections offer new insights into how power privilege uncanny landscapes misbegotten quests hellish commutes and deadly vacations can turn our travels into terror

Babel Samuel L. Boyd,2023-06-20 In Babel Political Rhetoric of a Confused Legacy Samuel L Boyd offers a new reading of the Tower of Babel in Genesis 11 1 9 Using recent insights on the rhetoric of Neo Assyrian politics and its ideology of governance as well as advances in biblical studies Boyd shows how the Tower of Babel was not originally about a tower Babylon or the advent of multilingualism at least in the earliest phases of the history and literary context of the story Rather the narrative was a critique against the Assyrian empire using themes of human overreach found in many places in Genesis 11 Boyd clarifies how idioms of Assyrian governance could have found their way into the biblical text and how the Hebrew of Genesis 11 1 9 itself leads to a different translation of the passage than found in versions of the Bible one that does not involve language This new reading sheds light on how the story became about language Boyd argues that this new understanding of Babel also illuminates aspects of the call of Abram when the Tower of Babel is interpreted as a story about something other than the origin of multilingualism Finally he frames the historical critical research on the biblical passage and its reception in ancient Jewish Christian and Islamic sources with the uses of the Tower of Babel in modern politics of language and nationalism He demonstrates how and why Genesis 11 1 9 has become so useful in often detrimental ways to the modern nation state Boyd explores this intellectual history of the passage into current events in the twenty first century and offers perspectives on how a new reading of the Tower of Babel can speak to the current cultural and political moment and offer correctives on the uses and abuses of the Bible in the public sphere

Religion and Popular Culture in America, Third Edition Bruce David Forbes, Jeffrey H. Mahan, 2017-03 Since 2000

Religion and Popular Culture in America has been one of the standard books used in teaching this area of study. Modestly updated in 2005, it continues to be taught in colleges, universities, and theological schools across the continent. The basic four-part structure of Religion and Popular Culture in America remains sound and is a feature that appeals to many who have taught the volume. Section One, Religion in Popular Culture, examines the way traditional religious symbols, narratives, and forms of religious practice appear in popular culture. Section Two, Popular Culture in Religion, considers how religion takes on and is reshaped by styles and values of popular culture. Section Three, Popular Culture as Religion, explores the ways that aspects of popular culture and their reception might be considered to be forms of religion. Section Four, Religion and Popular Culture in Dialogue, introduces religiously based critiques of popular culture and ways that popular culture articulates common critiques of religion. The third edition maintains the structure and basic length of the current edition and retains Forbes' introductory framework and updated versions of key essays. But they replace many of the more dated subjects with new material drawing on more contemporary examples. A concluding essay by Mahan organizes key insights from the essays and relates them to the theories of popular culture illuminated in the introduction. Provided by publisher.

The Prosthetic Arts of Moby-Dick David Haven Blake, 2024-12-13. The Prosthetic Arts of Moby Dick offers the first book-length study of how physical disability shapes one of the world's most iconic novels. Rather than see Ahab's lost limb as a deficiency, however, it explores the way that his prosthesis becomes both a means to power and a key figure for understanding the role that Islamic cultures play in the novel's plot and form.

Boricua Muslims Ken Chitwood, 2025-10-14. The stories and struggles of Puerto Rican Muslims in modern-day America. Among Puerto Rican converts to Islam, marginalization is a fact of daily life. Their authenticity is questioned by other Muslims and by fellow Boricua on the island and in the United States. At the same time, they exist under the shadow of US colonization and as Muslims in the context of American empire. To be a Puerto Rican Muslim then is to negotiate identity at numerous intersections of diversity and difference. Drawing on years of ethnographic research and more than a hundred interviews conducted in Puerto Rico, New York, Florida, Texas, New Jersey, and online, Ken Chitwood tells the story of Puerto Rican Muslims as they construct a shared sense of peoplehood through everyday practices. Boricua Muslims thus provides a study of cosmopolitanism not as a political ideal but as a mundane social reality, a reality that complicates scholarly and public conversations about race, ethnicity, and religion in the Americas. Expanding the geography of global Islam and recasting the relationship between religion and Puerto Rican culture, Boricua Muslims is an insightful reckoning with the manifold entanglements of identity amid late modern globalization.

Narrative Identity Trevor Castor, 2021-11-09. Narrative Identity is the product of seven years of research among Muslim immigrants living in America. This book will help you to understand the role that stories have in shaping how we see the world, ourselves, and others by exploring the process of identity formation for one of the most feared and least understood Muslim peoples in the world, the Pashtun. The Pashtun are most often associated with the Taliban and for harboring Osama bin Laden after the attacks on 9/11.

For centuries these people have been accustomed to war and ethnic tribal and religious violence in the regions of Afghanistan and Pakistan. As a result, the Pashtun are also one of the largest ethnic groups migrating throughout the West. More recently, their identity has been reduced to the violent actions of Islamic terrorism committed by a few Pashtun immigrants living in Western nations. This study explores the various factors that impact identity formation for Pashtun immigrants, including transnationalism, social media, and the ongoing negative media attention concerning Islam and Muslims. This book helps readers understand the nuances of identity formation, which are critical to consider in order to avoid the crude categorizations so often associated with identity politics.

Cluny and the Muslims of La Garde-Freinet Scott G. Bruce, 2015-11-05

In the summer of 972, a group of Muslim brigands based in the south of France near La Garde Freinet abducted the abbot of Cluny as he and his entourage crossed the Alps en route from Rome to Burgundy. Ultimately, the abbot was set free, but the audacity of this abduction outraged Christian leaders and galvanized the will of local lords. Shortly thereafter, Count William of Arles marshaled an army and succeeded in wiping out the Muslim stronghold. The monks of Cluny kept this tale alive over the next century. Scott G. Bruce explores the telling and retelling of this story, focusing on the representation of Islam in each account and how that representation changed over time. The culminating figure in this study is Peter the Venerable, one of Europe's leading intellectuals and abbot of Cluny from 1122 to 1156, who commissioned Latin translations of Muslim texts such as the Qur'an. Cluny and the Muslims of La Garde Freinet provides us with an unparalleled opportunity to examine Christian perceptions of Islam in the Crusading era.
