STATES OF MATTER

Complete Matter Unit

What is Matter?

Definition:

- Matter: anything that has weight and takes up space.
- Solids: The solid state of matter.

What is matter?

Matter is what makes up everything around us. It is anything that has weight and takes up space. Matter can't be created or destroyed. Everything that we see is made up of matter. Even things you can't see like the air we breathe are made up of matter.

What makes up matter?

All matter is made up of atoms and molecules. Atoms and molecules are also called particles. An atom is the smallest part of matter. It is the building block that makes up all of the things around us. Matter can be made up of atoms or molecules. Atoms are tiny particles of matter that are too small to be seen with our eyes. A large amount of atoms together is made up of something big enough for us to see with our eyes.

Molecules are made up of a few atoms that are stuck together. They are larger than atoms. Some molecules are small and some are big. For example, water molecules are small, but a large molecule like a protein is very big. Molecules are made up of atoms that are stuck together. They are larger than atoms. Some molecules are small and some are big. For example, water molecules are small, but a large molecule like a protein is very big.

Imagine building a house of Lego. The individual pieces of Lego are the particles. When you put them all together, you build the house. Matter is the same way.
