Minton, 1992-01-01 A fascinating glimpse of life in Japan in 1920 as experienced through the eyes of an observant and sensitive American missionary whose travels took him beyond Tokyo to the mountainous Tohoku region and to the cities of Sendai Kobe and Osaka Vivid descriptions of life in the slums and the powerless position of women are juxtaposed with an account of a meeting with the last Shogun of Japan Conversations with a wide variety of people revealed to the Rev Minton the stirrings of war sentiment even in 1920 The photographs offer a superb visual record Britain and Japan: Biographical Portraits, Vol. VII, 2010-09-23 This latest volume of leading figures in the history of Anglo Japanese relations offers a classic menu of personalities themes and events in all 25 contributions Contents include the writings of the Cambridge scholar Carmen Blacker and leading historian William Beasley British military observer and Times reporter of the Russo Japanese War General Sir Ian Hamilton philosophers Arnold Toynbee Bertrand Russell and George Bernard Shaw the Chosyu students Inoue Kaoru and Yamao Yozo who were later key figures in the Meiji period modernization of Japan and Walter Denning scholar and missionary Subjects treated include horse breeding and horse racing the Japanese influence on British architects the beginnings of golf in Japan and Japanese gardeners in Britain House and Home in Modern Japan Jordan Sand, 2020-05-11 A house is a site the bounds and focus of a community It is also an artifact a material extension of its occupants lives This book takes the Japanese house in both senses as site and as artifact and explores the spaces commodities and conceptions of community associated with it in the modern era As Japan modernized the principles that had traditionally related house and family began to break down Even where the traditional class markers surrounding the house persisted they became vessels for new meanings as housing was resituated in a new nexus of relations The house as artifact and the artifacts it housed were affected in turn The construction and ornament of houses ceased to be stable indications of their occupants social status the home became a means of personal expression and the act of dwelling was reconceived in terms of consumption Amid the breakdown of inherited meanings and the fluidity of modern society not only did the increased diversity of commodities lead to material elaboration of dwellings but home itself became an object of special attention its importance emphasized in writing invoked in politics and articulated in architectural design The aim of this book is to show the features of this culture of the home as it took shape in Japan      Hearings United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs,1925      Russian Views of Japan, 1792-1913 David N. Wells,2004 Before Japan was opened up in the 1850s contact with Russia as well as other western maritime nations was extremely limited Yet from the early eighteenth century onwards as a result of their expanding commercial interests in East Asia and the North Pacific Russians had begun to encounter Japanese and were increasingly eager to establish diplomatic and trading relations with Japan This book presents rare narratives written by Russians including official envoys scholars and later tourists who visited Japan between 1792 and 1913 The introduction and notes set these narratives in the context of the history of Russo Japanese relations and the genre of European travel writing showing how the Russian writers combined ethnographic interests with the assertion of Russian and European values simultaneously inscribing power relations and negotiating cultural difference
