

Introduction Sentence for a Persuasive Essay

An essay's introductory sentence is also called a hook. This sentence needs to intrigue readers enough to keep reading. While you are grabbing the reader's attention, the opening sentence also needs to be related to your persuasive essay's thesis statement. An effective opening sentence also provides a sense of context that the rest of your introductory paragraph will build on. It is often easier to write this sentence after you have drafted the rest of your essay.

STEP 1

Compose most of your persuasive essay first and then reread your essay's body paragraphs. Writing your introduction first will limit your ability to write, as you will be constantly self-editing to meet your introduction's limitations.

STEP 2

Select an introduction strategy that fits your essay's argument and content. These strategies can easily be found online and on webpages created and maintained by college English departments and writing tutoring centers, such as the Purdue University Online Writing Lab or the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Introductory hooks can include telling a story, asking a question, citing a startling statistic and more.

STEP 3

Write several introductory sentences, one for each specific strategy. Select the one most appropriate for the style and topic of your essay. Writing is never an exact science, and what works for one essay may be entirely wrong for the next. Whichever strategy you use, opt for something dramatic and specific. For example, "A lot of people use Kindle eReaders" would not be an effective opener. It states the obvious in a bland way. On the other hand, "Kindle eReaders threaten the historical primacy of the printed book" is far more dramatic and attention-grabbing.
