

SETSWANA

Paper 3158/01 Language

Generally, candidates performed well. Those who received good marks produced work that had a solid structure, using paragraphs and punctuation in the writing exercises to good effect. They attempted all the sections and all the questions in the question paper with equal commitment.

Candidates should, however, be encouraged to write legibly, as some handwriting was very difficult to read.

Another important area for candidates to work on is grammar, including the use of prefixes and suffixes, a proper understanding of which was lacking in some of the work of a small number of candidates. The correct formation of plural nouns also needs more attention. A small number of candidates neglected to use a capital at the beginning of words such as Batswana.

Candidates should be discouraged from using slang in the examination. Though not widespread, its repeated usage was evident in some of the candidates' work. Apart from the inappropriateness of such language, it made it difficult to follow the logic of what the candidate was attempting to put across in some cases.

Candidates should be strongly encouraged always to attempt to answer each question in the paper. There were indications that some may not have tried their utmost to do so, which inevitably lead to loss of marks.

Section A

Successful candidates presented well-structured essays, argued logically and made effective use of punctuation and Setswana idiom. As a sizeable part of the work from other candidates was unstructured, however, Centres should continue to encourage candidates to use an essay plan. This will help candidates avoid repetition, vagueness and erratic or flawed argumentation.

Section B

Although candidates approached this section from different angles – e.g. in the format of a newspaper article or a discussion in a public place like the kgotla – the central message was well presented in a majority of responses. There was also plenty of evidence of audience awareness in many of the essays.

Section C

This section proved to be challenging for a fair number of candidates, some of whom seemed not to have understood the passage very well. This was suggested by the fact that they did not finish answering all of the questions, while some answers bore little relation to the questions asked. As they are, by some margin, the least-developed of all of the skills tested in the paper, comprehension skills will need to be given more attention as a matter of priority.

Section D

Unlike in previous years, where a majority of candidate opted to translate from Setswana into English, the opposite was the case this year. Some candidates did not pay enough attention to detail in their response or produced translations that were too literal. As a result, their translations lost some of the meaning of the original passage.
