

IPSP Fact Sheet 5: Home Based Care and Inclusion Support Subsidy

Note: This fact sheet outlines information used to assist in determining the impact on the educator's capacity to include a child or children with ongoing high support needs with typically developing peers in a home based care environment. It should be read in conjunction with the IPSP Guidelines for 2013 – 2016, which provides information on eligibility, purposes for which the subsidy can be used for and other conditions and requirements for funding.

1. Assessing the impact on the home based educator/carer

The National Inclusion Support Subsidy Provider (NISSP) assesses applications for Inclusion Support Subsidy (ISS) in home based care environments and may approve a Tier One or Tier Two ISS payment for home based services (see 2. ISS payments – Tier One and Tier Two). When assessing home based care applications various factors are considered including:

- impact on the educator/carer
- the number, ages and needs of other children in the care environment
- the care and education required during the child's times of attendance
- considerations (outlined in Table 1 at Attachment A).

2. ISS payments – Tier One and Tier Two

Family Day Care (FDC) educators are eligible for a Tier One Capacity payment for the care environment where it is determined the impact of caring for a child or children with ongoing high support needs has a moderate impact on the educator. FDC educators may be eligible for a Tier Two Capacity payment if the impact is determined to be significant, resulting in the educator caring for less than the full complement of children when caring for a child or children with ongoing high support needs.

In Home Care (IHC) carers are eligible for a Tier One Additional payment for the care environment where it is determined the impact of caring for a child or children with ongoing high support needs has a moderate impact on the educator. Carers may be eligible for a Tier Two Capacity Payment if the impact is determined to be significant. Absence hours cannot be claimed in relation to In Home Care.
