Innocent Tawanda Mudzingwa

Mutare Teacher 2015 Accepted:

A Balancing Act Ndlovu, Mary, 2016-12-13 Zimbabwean independence in 1980 demanded a thorough revision of the way in which the law was provided in order to dispense with any form of discrimination based on race or class. The ideals and principles behind this requirement had many practical implications in terms of provision, access, information, and education, as well as a profound understanding of tradition and customary law. It was these manifold challenges that gave rise to the Legal Resources Foundation. A Balancing Act: A History of the Legal Resources Foundation 1985-2015 examines the impulse, growth, development of an NGO which has steadfastly sought to bring law to the people of Zimbabwe over three turbulent decades. Through a study of its outreach, publication, advocacy, and education programmes, the author Mary Ndlovu implicitly explores the social, economic, and political framework of society and the state that determined the LRF's trajectory. As the renowned jurist Reg Austin writes, "Examined from the perspective of its ambitious objectives and the range of its activities, this study of the LRF sheds an important light on a vital part of Zimbabwe's national history." The book is an important addition to the national literature on the role of the non-governmental sector. I Will Always Write Back Martin Ganda, Caitlin

Alifirenka, 2015-04-14 The New York Times bestselling true story of an all-American girl and a boy from Zimbabwe and the letter that changed both of their lives forever. It started as an assignment. Everyone in Caitlin's class wrote to an unknown student somewhere in a distant place. Martin was lucky to even receive a pen pal letter. There were only ten letters and fifty kids in his class. But he was the top student, so he got the first one. That letter was the beginning of a correspondence that spanned six years and changed two lives. In this compelling dual memoir, Caitlin and Martin recount how they became best friends and better people through their long-distance exchange. Their story will inspire you to look beyond your own life and wonder about the world at large and your place in it. Commonwealth Universities Yearbook, 1984 Susan Angeline Collins: with a Hallelujah Heart Janis Bennington Van Buren, 2021-04-27 Ten percent of book profits will go to the Susan Angeline Collins Scholarship at Upper Iowa University in Fayette, Iowa. Get ready to delve into a world of hardship, challenge, and fulfillment. Explore the life of African American Susan Angeline Collins and be inspired by her faith, pioneering attitude, missionary successes, unfailing courage, and belief in everyone's right to an education. As Miss Collins' life unfolds before you, relevant social issues affecting people of color are intertwined. Issues examined include economics, education, gender, race, religion, and Africa's colonization from her 1851 birth in Illinois until her 1940 death in Iowa. Her resourcefulness in overcoming obstacles during her 33-year commitment to missionary service in the Congo Delta Region and Angola is compelling. Miss Collins' story demonstrates the difference one person can make in the lives of an unknown number of women and children, some orphaned and homeless and others escaping early marriage and subservience. Her leadership is evidenced when starting a girls' school in the northern Angolan high plateau region years before Mary Jane McLeod Bethune initiated her school for African American girls in Florida. You will be gratified to discover how this diminutive bundle of energy achieved recognition as a stalwart missionary leader teacher nurse construction manager and surrogate mother to her girls

Zimbabwe represents one of the worst humanitarian emergencies today This book asks the question How did a country with so much promise a stellar education system a growing middle class a sophisticated economic infrastructure a liberal constitution an independent judiciary and many of the trappings of Western democracy go so wrong In their own words Zimbabweans recount their experiences of losing their homes land livelihoods and families as a direct result of political violence They describe being tortured in detention firebombed at work or beaten up or raped to punish votes for the opposition Those forced to flee to neighboring countries recount their escapes cutting through fences swimming across crocodile infested rivers and entrusting themselves to human smugglers This book includes Zimbabweans of every age class and political conviction from farm laborers to academics doctors to artists opposition leaders to ordinary Zimbabweans men

Staunton, Irene, 2015-08-09 This eighth anthology of twelve short stories from Weaver Press reveals again the range and variety compassion and humour irony and tragedy with which Zimbabwean writers observe the world around them Several writers adopt a tongue in cheek approach to the subject Naishe Nyamubaya takes us behind graphic newspaper headlines with a story of goblins Jonathan Brakarsh turns the world inside out by constantly reversing our expectations and Lawrence Hoba draws a situation both collateral and incompatible It is a characteristic of crime fiction to defy expectation as Farai Mudzingwa Bongani Sibanda and Valerie Tagwira do in exploring the ramifications of sudden death But if we are surprised by some stories we can only be moved those which draw on the pain and vulnerability of both the victims and those left behind Godess Bvukutwa Isabella Matambanadzo and Donna Kirstein help us to reflect on injustice and loss Reading this collection of stories with subjects ranging from tokolosh to tsunami and from ghosts to goldfish reminds us that the world is crazier than we think
