has never been more central to the development of cars commercial vehicles motorbikes trains and human powered vehicles driven by the need for efficiency reducing carbon dioxide emissions reducing fuel consumption increasing range and alleviating problems associated with traffic congestion Reducing vehicle weight makes it more challenging to ensure that they are stable and handle well over a wide range of environmental conditions Lighter structures are also more vulnerable to aerodynamically induced vibration Alongside this customers demand an environment that is quiet comfortable and maintains their vision of the world around them in all weathers These aims must be met by designing vehicles that engage customers emotionally promoting the brand values of manufacturers and operators This can only be done by collaboration between designers and aerodynamicists Examine the latest developments in vehicle aerodynamic development Explore opportunities to network and share experiences around different areas Focus on future challenges and the engineering knowledge and literature making it very difficult for someone interested in the matter to have access to the actual state of knowledge. Therefore I believe such a meeting was long overdue and is a considerable attempt to open closed doors for present and future ambitious neurosurgical activities. After succeeding in previous symposiums of similar interest in Hannover it was obvious that Prof. Madjid Samii and his coworkers took the initiative of organizing such a meeting bringing together in the pure sense of the word Neurosurgeons with Anatomists Neurologists Neurophysiologists Neuroradiologists ENT Maxillofacial Stereotactic and Radiosurgeons as well as other colleagues. One contribution after the other followed from the basic sciences up to the operative management considering very new and actual concepts. Through the application of new microsurgical techniques and the incorporation of new understanding for the many problems afflicting the midline of the eNS and based on a growing closer cooperation between the various disciplines a wide field has opened up which concerns us all.
