The Adventures of Dofesaba II 2021 Peter J. Bell,2022-02-22 This is the third book to be published featuring our adventures with our Southerly 42RST sailing yacht Previous books have described taking Dofesaba II down the Canals du Midi to the port of Leucate where it was wintered The second book tells you about our adventures down the East coast of Spain passing many places where British holiday makers often go for their summer holidays Then continues in part II towards the final destination of Lagos in Portugal via Gibraltar

This the third book completes the circumnavigation of Iberia and includes details of the massive crash we had offshore Portugal and what happened after that If you are a fellow cruising sailor I hope you take away from this tale that even when things are at their darkest and Death is knocking on the door there is always light at the end of the tunnel and nearly everything can be fixed it just takes time and a very good insurance policy I wrote these books mainly for my own purposes but book one and two went down very well and so I had to continue with book three It was also very cathartic to write about our unpleasant accident it was also very difficult to do so as I had to stop many times trying to get through the narrative I hope you will agree that I just about managed it Sailors who read this will be disappointed that we only sailed for 10% of the time but that is the harsh reality of going the wrong way round Iberia particularly trying to head North up the Portuguese coast in the summer believe me I tried to sail as it is cheaper The wind gods did not allow it Intrigued I hope so read on and enjoy

Surviving Grief ... and Learning to Live Again Catherine M. Sanders, 2015-08-13 An insightful compassionate account of the grieving process that helps us through the pain and isolation experienced with the loss of a loved one We are never really prepared for the loss of someone we love Thrown into a state of emotional chaos we experience rage guilt anxiety and intense sadness all at once It is the oldest story in the world we tell ourselves millions of people have had to cope with this before and yet we always believe that what we are experiencing is unique to us We feel isolated in our anguish and often ashamed of what we are feeling A profoundly compassionate and insightful book Surviving Grief Learning to Live Again offers you the support and understanding you need to get you through this difficult time Written by Dr Catherine Sanders a therapist and researcher specializing in bereavement issues and one who has lived through the loss of close family members it helps you to see that what you are feeling is part of a natural process of readjustment and renewal According to Dr Sanders grieving like any other natural regenerative process must be allowed to run its proper course if we are ever to regain our equilibrium and continue on with our lives To help us better understand the process she describes the five universal phases of grief Shock Awareness of Loss Conservation and The Need to Withdraw Healing and Renewal and guides us through each Drawing directly from her own experiences and those of her clients and her research studies she delves deeply and compassionately into the different experiences of grief and talks about what it means to lose a mate a parent or a child And she discusses the factors that can have an influence on the grieving process such as age gender and the circumstances surrounding the loved one's death

Sweetgrass: Book III Patricia Ann Kuess, 2014-06-18 It is May 1863 The Battle of Fredericksburg is over it was a disaster for the Union Army Johnathan Traver a Union Army Sergeant is badly concussed Esher Coley his Warrior Companion and the man he loves is grievously wounded and their fellow soldier Luther who knows the healing ways of plants has been shot in the face Their situation is desperate They must get to Kentucky where Luther's vast supply of medicinals offer their best chance to heal and be whole again But how The Union Army is evacuating and there are no extra wagons or horses Johnathan makes getting to Kentucky his mission and after many adventures on the road he succeeds they arrive at Luther's home to his grateful family who all pitch in to restore their health Johnathan and Esher's dream is to homestead on the Prairie in the Dakota Territory Johnathan imagines the two of them traveling together finding their land and farming it But that is not Esher's dream Yes he wants to farm with Johnathan but he also wants children a wife and to travel by wagon train When they leave Luther's for the Prairie Johnathan is convinced there is no need for a wagon train no need for a wife and as for children there have to be some orphans there that they will adopt He has months to change Esher's mind as they journey north and west They experience more adventures on the road but Johnathan is unable to budge Esher from his conviction that it is too dangerous to travel alone They join a wagon train They begin the journey of their lives It soon becomes evident that they are both right and wrong as a new test for their love arises from the dust of the wagon trail Like all dreams achieving them require hard work and enduring many bewildering dips and turns Johnathan and Esher's dream is like any other full of passion confusion and sometimes tears but ultimately their dream is a journey of love

Prehistoric Adventures AQEEL AHMED,2024-03-30 Prehistoric Adventures In the wild Mesozoic Era join the Triceratops Troop as they discover the ancient world facing exciting challenges and making bonds that can t be broken In Summary Children love Prehistoric Adventures because it tells the exciting story of a brave group of Triceratops who go on an adventure through the Mesozoic era s wild and unknown areas While Trixie guides them these young dinosaurs go through a number of events that test their bravery intelligence and ability to connect with others As they move they see the big colorful world of their time which is full of both amazing things and dangerous things At the start of the story the troop goes on its first trip into the unknown because they are curious and want to follow a set of strange tracks Their natural interest leads them to a series of scary encounters with Tyrannosaurus Rexs that test their ability to be brave and think quickly Along the way they face tough situations like a raging river and a dangerous volcanic blast which shows how strong and united they are While traveling Trixie and her friends learn the value of kindness and compassion when they find a lost egg This teaches them to be aware of other living things around them Building this sense of community is a feast of friendship that brings together many species in peace and joy Through their study they learn more about their surroundings and the important water source which leads them to mysterious echoing caves and a secret oasis They also find fossils from a long time ago which makes them think about their ancestors and links them to the planet s long past Trixie and her friends are smarter closer together and excited to share what they ve learned when they get home They are no longer just explorers They learn important lessons about friendship life and the many mysteries of their ancient society on their trip Prehistoric Adventures is more than just a story about dinosaurs getting into trouble It s also an educational and inspiring trip through time Young readers are told to learn about history enjoy nature and know that bravery unity and kindness are always important Trixie and her troop show kids that trips aren t just about getting to the end point they re also about making friends and learning things along the way

Chapter 1 The Start of an Adventure As the sky turned pink and orange with the first light of morning Trixie the Triceratops and her friends stretched their legs It was a new day in the Mesozoic age The world was waking up and the air was filled with the sounds of nature including the roars of dinosaurs and the songs of primitive birds The lush landscape that went on as far as the eye could see was full of life from the tall trees with their big leaves to the peaceful streams that ran through the land and gave any animal that crossed them a drink With her thick wings and sharp horns Trixie was not a normal Triceratops She was young full of energy and very interested in everything going on around her Her friends were a variety of dinosaurs and they all loved to go on adventures Each dinosaur had its own special abilities and traits The Stegosaurus Stego was always ready to protect the group His spiked tail and row of huge plates going down his back made him easy to spot The Pterodactyl Pterosaur flew through the sky scanning the distance for signs of trouble or discovery He was followed by the Brachiosaurus Bronto whose neck could reach the trees sweetest leaves when it was stretched out As the sun rose higher and turned the sky a bright blue Trixie led her friends into the unknown The Mesozoic was a very long time ago and it was a very big time Deep rivers cut through the land carrying both dangerous and interesting animals There were also huge grasslands where groups of dinosaurs walked freely It looked like the lush woods went on forever There was no doubt that the group was excited as they left Every strange sound even the rustling of bushes made them more interested What would be new for them to learn now Are they going to find a new kind of plant that Bronto can eat They might find a clean cold pond where they could all cool off or they might find a secret path that leads to a part of their planet that no one knew about before With each step Trixie and her friends learned something new about their house

Seeing how life moved around them made them aware of how delicate nature's balance is. Any living thing from the biggest dinosaur to the tiniest bug was seen to depend on each other. Through their trips they learned how important it is to work together and be friends. It taught them to depend on each other's skills and help each other out when things got tough. As they experienced the wild beauty of the Mesozoic era they learned most of all what it means to truly adventure. It was about getting past problems and seeing new places but it was also about being open to the world, learning something new every day and growing as a person. As the sun went down and long shadows went over the area, Trixie and her friends knew that the day's events were coming to an end. But their hearts full of happiness and their minds full of stories from the day they went back to where they had last rested. They went to sleep under a sky full of stars and dreamed of all the things they could do in the huge lush world of the Mesozoic times.

Chapter 2: Mysterious Tracks

As Trixie the Triceratops and her friends went deeper into the dark green jungle on a lovely morning, they came across something strange. They had never seen those footsteps before in the soft wet ground. The fact that these tracks were big and well defined showed that the animal that made them was different from anything they had seen before. The footprint shapes interested Trixie and her friends because there was always something new to learn about the world they lived in with so many interesting species during the Mesozoic era. The team was eager to figure out the puzzle so they chose to follow the footprint path. With each step they went deeper into the forest where no one had been before. Only small bits of sunlight could reach the ground because of the thick canopy above. The dance of shadows added to the mystery and excitement of their journey. As they followed the path, they thought about what kind of animal had left these marks. Was it a polite Bronto? Was it taller than the tallest of them? It might have had long spreading wings like their flying friend Ptero. Along their trip, they did more than just follow a path. They also learned about the fragile balance of their world and made new discoveries. They saw how the tracks affected the tiny plants and animals that lived on the forest floor. Some plants seemed to do well in the disturbed soil, and they saw different ways that the path's light got through the trees. These discoveries like parts of a jigsaw puzzle gave them clues about the past of their original world. As the group traveled, their minds were filled with all the possible outcomes. They thought about meeting a new dinosaur that had pretty feathers or could sing. It was talked about how they would meet each other, make friends, tour the forests and share what they knew.
