The United States Catalog ,1928 The United States Catalog Ida M. Lynn,1928 Florida Studies General Editor,Claudia Slate,2009-05-05

Florida was the first region of the United States to be discovered explored and after a fashion settled by Euroamericans Its population in the early 21st century is approaching 17 million Within years the number of people living in the state will surpass those living in New York and the Sunshine State will become the most populous area east of the Mississippi The first book in English about Florida was written by Jean Ribault A French adventurer Ribault established a colony of Huguenots near present day Jacksonville He was captured by the very able

Spanish commander Pedro Menendez who ordered his French rival and all his minions killed The state's long and colorful past is matched by its equally long and colorful literary production Strangely critical assessment of Florida literature has lagged far behind With this volume the Florida College English Association has formally begun an effort to correct this lamentable oversight Included are papers on every aspect of Florida literature and history by scholars from every part of the state who are employed in every kind of institution of higher learning Of special interest are the studies of Florida literature in the 19th century and in the late 20th and early 21st centuries areas that are generally ignored in national journals The papers on the contributions of African American literary figures such as Zora Hurston and James Weldon Johnson are noteworthy Of particular interest are the suggestions for teaching Florida studies in the classroom which can be adapted for high school as well as college students

Student and Teacher Writing Motivational Beliefs Steve Graham, Gary A. Troia, Gustaf Bernhard Uno Skar, 2024-06-21 The study of students' motivational beliefs about writing and how such beliefs influence writing has increased since the publication of John Hays' 1996 model of writing This model emphasized that writers' motivational beliefs influence how and what they write Likewise increased attention has been devoted in recent years to how teachers' motivational beliefs about writing especially their efficacy to teach writing impact how writing is taught and how students progress as writers As a result there is a need to bring together in a Research Topic studies that examine the role and influence of writing beliefs Historically the psychological study of writing has focused on what students write or the processes they apply when writing Equally important but investigated less often are studies examining how writing is taught and how teachers' efforts contribute to students' writing What has been less prominent in the psychological study of writing are the underlying motivational beliefs that drive or inhibit students' writing or serve as catalysts for teachers' actions in the classroom when teaching writing This Research Topic will bring together studies that examine both students and teachers' motivational beliefs about teaching writing This will include studies examining the operation of such beliefs how they develop cognitive and affective correlates how writing motivational beliefs can be fostered and how they are related to students' writing achievement By focusing on both students and teachers' beliefs the Research Topic will provide a more nuanced and broader picture of the role of motivation beliefs in writing and writing instruction This Research Topic includes papers that address students' motivational beliefs about writing teachers' motivational beliefs about writing or teaching writing Students' motivational beliefs about writing include beliefs about the value and utility of writing writing competence attitudes toward writing goal orientation motives for writing identity epistemological underpinnings writing and attributions for success failure as examples Teacher motivational include these same judgements as well as beliefs about their preparation and their students' competence and progress as writers to provide additional examples This Research Topic is interested in papers that examine how such beliefs operate develop are related to other cognitive and affective variables how they are impacted by instruction and how they are related to students' writing performance Submitted studies can include original research both
