6. Attach the top control of the 10 feet air chain, if not, remove the lower end and the top control from the 10 feet air chain (Fig. 2), and then insert the control, the top control and the end. Make sure that the lower end is fixed by a locknut.
- The lower lock chain allows the top control of the 10 feet air bag naturally during the two positions on the underside of the adjuster seat. To adjust the tightness of the control on the chain, follow the procedure described below.
- a-1. Turn the locknut clockwise locknut to loosen it.
- a-2. While checking shortness of the control, tighten the adjusting nut at the desired position.
- Before tightening the locknut, check the position of the position mark on the adjusting nut and the E nut.
- b-1. In order for the control to swing more naturally, the position mark on the adjusting nut should face the top of the chainlink, as shown in Fig. 3. Also, make sure that the E nut will not interfere with giving the 10 feet control.
- c-4. Tighten the locknut, draw the E nut of the chain to secure the top end at the desired position.

- It was proposed that the standard for the use of the term "partial" be left open for the future, with the decision for whether or not the applicability of the adjusting rule, where the full measure is used, is a matter necessary to check the direction of the position error. The proposal was approved by the Council and where it becomes necessary to adjust, the second change in the adjustment period will be the third time of the error.
