Last Man Standing Jack Straw, 2012-09-27 As a small boy in Epping Forest Jack Straw could never have imagined that one day he would become Britain's Lord Chancellor As one of five children of divorced parents he was bright enough to get a scholarship to a direct grant school but spent his holidays as a plumber's mate for his uncles to bring in some much needed extra income Yet he spent 13 years and 11 days in government including long and influential spells as Home Secretary and Foreign Secretary This is the story of how he got there His memoirs offer a unique insight into the complex sometimes self-serving but always fascinating world of British politics and reveals the toll that high office takes but more importantly the enormous satisfaction and extraordinary privilege of serving both your constituents and your country Straw's has been a very public life but he reveals the private face too and offers readers a vivid and authoritative insight into the Blair Brown era and indeed the last forty years of British politics

Is the Universe a Hologram? Adolfo Plasencia, 2017-05-04 Questions about the physical world the mind and technology in conversations that reveal a rich seam of interacting ideas Science today is more a process of collaboration than moments of individual eureka's This book recreates that kind of synergy by offering a series of interconnected dialogues with leading scientists who are asked to reflect on key questions and concepts about the physical world technology and the mind These thinkers offer both specific observations and broader comments about the intellectual traditions that inform these questions doing so they reveal a rich seam of interacting ideas The persistent paradox of our era is that in a world of unprecedented access to information many of the most important questions remain unsolved These conversations conducted by a veteran science writer Adolfo Plasencia reflect this with scientists addressing such issues as intelligence consciousness global warming energy technology matter the possibility of another earth changing the past and even the philosophical curveball is the universe a hologram The dialogues discuss such fascinating aspects of the physical world as the function of the quantum bit the primordial cosmology of the universe and the wisdom of hewn stones They offer optimistic but reasoned views of technology considering convergence culture algorithms Beauty Truth the hacker ethic AI and other topics And they offer perspectives from a range of disciplines on intelligence discussing subjects that include the neurophysiology of the brain affective computing collaborative innovation and the wisdom of crowds Conversations with Hal Abelson Ricardo Baeza Yates John Perry Barlow Javier Benedicto Jos

The Design and Analysis of Algorithms Dexter C. Kozen, 2012-12-06 These are my lecture notes from CS681 Design and Analysis of Algorithms a one semester graduate course I taught at Cornell for three consecutive fall semesters from 88 to 90 The course serves a dual purpose to cover core material in algorithms for graduate students in computer science preparing for their PhD qualifying exams and to introduce theory students to some advanced topics in the design and analysis of algorithms The material is thus a mixture of core and advanced topics At first I meant these notes to supplement and not supplant a textbook but over the three years they gradually took on a life of their own In addition to the notes I depended heavily on the texts A V Aho J E Hopcroft and J D Ullman The Design and Analysis of Computer Algorithms
