Inventing the Working Parent Sarah E. Stoller, 2023-08-22 The first historical examination of working parenthood in the late twentieth century and how the concepts of family friendly work culture and work life balance came to be Since the 1980s families across the developed West have lived through a revolution on a scale unprecedented since industrialization With more mothers than ever before in paid work and the rise of the middle class dual income household we have entered a new era in the history of everyday life the era of the working parent In Inventing the Working Parent Sarah E Stoller charts the politics that shaped the creation of the phenomenon of working parenthood in Britain as it arose out of a new culture of work Stoller begins with the first sustained efforts by feminists to mobilize politically on behalf of working parents in the late 1970s and concludes in the context of an emerging national political agenda for working families with the rise of New Labour in the 1990s She explores how and why the notion of working parenthood emerged as a powerful new political claim and identity category and addresses how feminists used the concept of working parenthood to advocate for new organizational policies and practices Lastly Stoller shows how neoliberal capitalism under Margaret Thatcher and subsequent New Labour governments made a family's ability to survive on one income nearly impossible with significant consequences for individual experience the gendered division of labor and intimate life Serials in the British Library, 1999 Newsletter, 1989

Newsletter United States. Department of State, 1992 Working Mothers and the Child Care Dilemma Lisa Pasolli, 2015-05-15 During the twentieth century child care policy in British Columbia matured in the shadow of a political uneasiness with working motherhood Working Mothers and the Child Care Dilemma examines how ideas about motherhood paid work and social welfare influenced universal child care discussions and consistently pushed access to child care to the margins of BC's social policy agenda Charting the growth of the child care movement in this province Lisa Pasolli examines the arrival of Vancouver's first crèche in 1912 the teetering steps forward during the debates of the interwar years the development of provincial child care policy the rebellious advancements of second wave feminists in the 1960s and 1970s and the maturation of provincial and national child care politics since the mid 70s In addition to revealing much about historical attitudes toward women's roles Working Mothers and the Child Care Dilemma celebrates the efforts of mothers and advocates who for decades have lobbied for child care as a central part of women's rights as workers parents and citizens

Alberta's Daycare Controversy Tom Langford, 2011 Since the late 1950s disputes over day care programs policies and funding have been a recurring feature of political life in the province of Alberta (... ; 2). Canadian Women's Indexing Group, Ontario Institute for Studies in Education, 1991 Library Child Care Link Susan Denniston, 1986

Earth First! Martha F. Lee, 1995-11-01 In the summer of 1980 Dave Foreman along with four conservationist colleagues founded the millenarian movement Earth First A provocative counterculture that ultimately hoped for the fall of industrial civilization the movement emerged in response to rapid commercial development of the American wilderness The earth should come first was a doctrine that championed both biocentrism an emphasis on maintaining the earth s full complement of species and biocentric equality the belief that all species are equal Martha Lee was successful in gaining extraordinary access to information about the movement as well as interviews with its members While following Earth First s development and methods she illustrates the inherent instability and the dangers associated with all millenarian movements This book will be of interest to environmentalists and those interested in political science and sociology Young Children and Racial Justice Jane Lane,2008-06-09 This essential resource provides a framework for good practice in racial equality for everyone working in the early years sector and gives practitioners the tools and knowledge to implement race equality policies and action plans Growing Up in Child Care Ben Mardell,2002 Combining compelling interviews and photos with his own research at Harvard and classroom experience Ben has produced a book that is at once a scholarly study and one of the most visually and verbally eloquent books available about the education of young children Newsletters in Print Gale Group,2002-11-26 With descriptions of more than 12 000 newsletters in 4 000 different subject areas this comprehensive resource is an invaluable research tool Newsletter Sourcebook Mark Beach,1993 Suggests ways in which newspaper designers and editors can create interesting and effective designs and keep costs within their budget Newsletter of the Center for Health Promotion ,1990 Rescuing Canada's Right Tasha Kheiriddin,Adam Daifallah,2005-11-29 A provocative and timely call to action for civic minded Canadians yearning for a more competitive political system ane better government Canadians everywhere are asking what s wrong with the Conservative Party The Liberal Party of Canada has held power for 70 of the past 100 years a feat unrivaled by any other political party in the Western hemisphere This dominance has caused a great deal of frustration on all political fronts especially on the right In the past two years the long awaited merger of the Canadian Alliance and the Progressive Conservatives has not achieved the results many were expecting Despite the explosive revelations of the sponsorship scandal and attempts to improve his party s image Stephen Harper s Conservatives still trail in the polls In Rescuing Canada s Right the authors examine the problems facing the Conservative Party and the broader conservative movement and offer concrete solutions on how to fix them Some of the issues the book will address Why the Conservative Party and its predecessor parties have such a poor electoral record Why today s Conservative Party is not really conservative Why a new political vision is necessary to inspire Canadians and what it should be How the Liberals use public money to entrench an unhealthy reliance on the state and how the right has failed to challenge it What Canadian conservatives can learn from the American and British experiences How to build a Canadian Conservative counter culture in the media academia and the law How the right can break through to the young and to immigrants in Quebec An action plan to end Canada s democratic deficit and level the political playing field Rescuing Canada s Right will be a hard hitting and groundbreaking work that will introduce new ideas and a passionate call for change for 21st century Canada Women, Citizenship and Canadian Child Care Policy in the 1990s Vappu Tyyskä,University of Toronto. Childcare Resource and Research Unit, 2001 This report analyzes developments in Canadian child care policy in the 1990s at the federal provincial Ontario and municipal Toronto and Peel levels highlighting problems that are associated with a male model of citizenship The report discusses the child care policy process as one in which state bodies are challenged by the diverse and largely women driven child care advocacy movement First the report outlines some of the major developments of the 1990s that have created increasing hardship for women foremost among these is the diminished accessibility to child care due to stagnation of or cutbacks in the funding of child care services Connected to this is the ongoing concern among advocates for not for profit child care about a shift of services to the private and unregulated sector arguably lowering quality Also at issue are the poor and deteriorating working conditions of mostly female child care providers These considerations are intended to highlight the importance of linking social class and gender inequality in an analysis of social policy Second the report discusses the effectiveness of different strategies of child care advocacy raising some of the most persistent questions among feminists concerning political citizenship i e whether it is possible to obtain social rights for women through the state and if so what the conditions are which make it possible The report concludes by asserting that most women s and advocacy organizations are dismissed by governments as special interest groups based on their outsider status in official politics and lacking stable alliances these organizations are drawn toward political solutions that may prove palatable to governments in the short run but may undermine general claims for child care as a universal rather than a targeted service Contains a 114 references EV

INNOVATION AND CHANGE IN THE HUMAN

SERVICES Nicholas D. Richie, Diane E. Alperin, 2002-01-01 This second edition of Innovation and Change in the Human Services considerably updates and expands the previous volume An overview of the development of human services over the course of the twentieth century culminates in an evolutionary model which illustrates how human services generally progress from an initial individual problem stage to one of considerable governmental involvement and media attention Eight specific human services are discussed in detail hospices for those with life limiting illness continuing care retirement communities services for those with HIV AIDS domestic assault services day care for children services for the homeless lifelong occupational counseling and services for Alzheimer s patients A full chapter is devoted to some of the major events of the last decade of the twentieth century the Clinton Health Care Plan the Welfare Reforms of 1996 and the Oregon Death with Dignity Act The chapter on human services education compares degree programs in human services and social work and suggests a functional approach which would allow the human services worker to move easily from one setting to another due to having mastered a common core curriculum with universal applicability The last chapter deals with human services issues of considerable importance at the start of the twenty first century including the corporatization of human services the privatization of human services Social Security reform and healthcare reform This material is expected to be of use not only to educators and students in the human services but also to policy analysts and health services administrators practitioners who face everyday the challenge of refining adapting the programs they administer study and support      Contested Lives Faye D. Ginsburg,1998-09 Based on the struggle over a Fargo North Dakota abortion clinic Contested Lives explores one of the central social conflicts of our time Both wide ranging and rich in detail it speaks not simply to the abortion issue but also to the critical role of women s political activism A new introduction addresses the events of the last decade which saw the emergence of Operation Rescue and a shift toward more violent even deadly forms of anti abortion protest Responses to this trend included government legislation a decline in clinics and doctors offering abortion services and also the formation of Common Ground an alliance bringing together activists from both sides to address shared concerns Ginsburg shows that what may have seemed an ephemeral artifact of Midwestern feminism of the 1980s actually foreshadowed unprecedented possibilities for reconciliation in one of the most entrenched conflicts of our times      The Single Parent ,1982      The Child's Curriculum Colwyn Trevarthen,Jonathan Delafield-Butt,Aline-Wendy Dunlop,2018-09-04 All children are born with emotional talent But if left untended those talents can wane during the first five years of life Children are sensitive and social beings from birth exhibiting an innate enthusiasm for communication that must be satisfied for healthy development If their feelings agency and motivations are met with affection if they are respected and nurtured then children will respond creatively and that inherent desire for companionship will flourish However with the recent changes in political and educational systems early years education has seen a decline in focus on the emotional wellbeing of children and the development of their creativity Those systems need to adapt if educators are to bring out the best in our future generations By nurturing creativity and emotional wellbeing in the first five years of life long term social benefits can be wrought The book focusses on children s readiness for learning It addresses the natural joy explicit in children s early conversations and engagement with music and their development through play with both adults and other children This kind of education allows children to develop their bodies and skills accept and understand their feelings build relationships and progress both their imagination and their problem solving skills In this way play with others drives development With contributors from the fields of psychological educational and political spheres this book will be of interest to anyone concerned for the future of our children
