Memorialising the Holocaust in Human Rights Museums Katrin Antweiler, 2023-04-27

Honourable Mention in the Best First Book Award of the Memory Studies Association 2025 This book provides an analysis of the forms and functions of Holocaust memorialisation in human rights museums by asking about the impact of global memory politics on how we imagine the present and the future It compares three human rights museums and their respective emplotment of the Holocaust and seeks to illuminate how in this specific setting memory politics simultaneously function as future politics because they delineate a normative ideal of the citizen subject its set of values and aspirations for the future that of the historically aware human rights advocate More than an ethical practice engaging with the Holocaust is used as a means of asserting one s standing on the right side of history the memorialisation of the Holocaust has thus become a means of governmentality a way of governing contemporary citizen subjects The linking of public memory of the Holocaust with the human rights project is often presented as highly beneficial for all members of what is often called the global community Yet this book argues that this specific constellation of memory also has the ability to function as an exercise of power and thus runs the risk of reinforcing structural oppression With its novel theoretical approach this book not only contributes to Memory Studies but also connects Holocaust memory to Studies of Global Governmentality and the debate on decolonising memory politics

The Last American Hero Alice L. George, 2020-11-10 On February 20 1962 John Glenn became a national star That morning at Cape Canaveral the small town boy from Ohio took his place atop a rocket and soared into space He became celebrated in all corners of the world as not just the first American to orbit the Earth but as the first space traveler to take the human race with him Refusing to let that dramatic day define his life he went on to become a four term US senator and returned to space at the age of seventy seven The Last American Hero is a stunning examination of the layers that formed the man a hero of the Cold War a two time astronaut a veteran senator a devoted husband and father and much more At a time when an increasingly cynical world needs heroes John Glenn's aura burns brightly in American memory

Leveling the Playing Field Laszlo Bruszt, Gerald A. McDermott, 2014-08-15 Emerging market countries are currently facing a dual challenge How to incorporate transnational regulations into their societies while building their own versions of regulatory capitalism This raises a multitude questions and challenges Will the diffusion of international public and private regulations of developed countries benefit a few and marginalize less developed countries Or can these regulations foster transnational public private experiments to improve local regulatory capacities and social conditions What kinds of strategies might facilitate or impede both transnational regulatory integration and local institutional upgrading This book offers a fresh perspective in reconciling the seemingly incompatible goals of transnational integration and development It offers a new analytical framework and a set of case studies that help forge a comparative analysis of integration and development It offers both the identification of the mechanisms that can foster lasting transnational integration settlements and broad based domestic institutional and economic upgrading This multidisciplinary study draws on current research from many leading scholars They analyse issues in a variety of regions around the world and in industries and domains ranging from food safety manufacturing telecommunications finance as well as labour and environmental rights The chapters reveal concrete lessons for scholars and practitioners alike around the different roles and strategies that governments the multilaterals firms and NGOs can take to facilitate the integration of international standards improve domestic institutions and expand the benefits to a great variety of local groups

Pacific Builder & Engineer, 1927 International Cooperation on WMD Nonproliferation Jeffrey W. Knopf, 2016-02-15 International efforts to prevent the spread of weapons of mass destruction WMD including nuclear biological and chemical weapons rest upon foundations provided by global treaties such as the Nuclear Non Proliferation Treaty NPT and the Chemical Weapons Convention CWC Over time however states have created a number of other mechanisms for organizing international cooperation to promote nonproliferation Examples range from regional efforts to various worldwide export control regimes and nuclear security summit meetings initiated by U S president Barack Obama Many of these additional nonproliferation arrangements are less formal and have fewer members than the global treaties International Cooperation on WMD Nonproliferation calls attention to the emergence of international cooperation beyond the core global nonproliferation treaties The contributors examine why these other cooperative nonproliferation mechanisms have emerged assess their effectiveness and ask how well the different pieces of the global nonproliferation regime complex fit together Collectively the essayists show that states have added new forms of international cooperation to combat WMD proliferation for multiple reasons including the need to address new problems and the entrepreneurial activities of key state leaders Despite the complications created by the existence of so many different cooperative arrangements this collection shows the world is witnessing a process of building cooperation that is leading to greater levels of activity in support of norms against WMD and terrorism
