santé : Réussir le changement Frédéric Bizard, 2015-09-09 Malgré des moyens financiers alloués toujours plus importants malgré tous les progrès médicaux malgré des lois s'enchaînant au rythme de ministres qui défilent notre système de santé semble condamné plus que jamais à être aussi performant qu'au XX^e siècle. Face à l'évolution radicale de notre monde conséquence d'une triple transition démographique, démographique et technologique notre système de santé ne s'est pas structurellement adapté. À la suite d'un long travail de recherche et de réflexion l'auteur propose une refondation du système à partir des fondamentaux de 1945. Il en ressort cinq axes d'actions et quarante propositions concrètes destinées à faire entrer notre système de santé dans le XXI^e siècle et lui redonner une position de référence dans le monde.
