The Moral Metaphor System Ning Yu, 2022-06-27

This book investigates moral metaphors in English and Chinese applying conceptual metaphor theory to a comparative study of the linguistic manifestation of the moral metaphor system rooted in the domains of bodily and physical experience Ning Yu sheds light on the metaphorical nature of moral cognition and how it is systematically manifested in language and explores the potential commonalities that define moral cognition in general as well as the differences that characterize distinct cultures The work investigates moral cognition at the cultural level as reflected in language based on linguistic evidence from both English and Chinese and to a limited extent multimodal evidence from the corresponding cultures The moral metaphor system is taken to consist of three major subsystems referred to as physical visual and spatial These subsystems are clusters of conceptual metaphors whose source concepts are from domains of embodied experiences in the physical world and which are formulated in contrastive categories with bipolar values for the target concepts of moral and immoral The study is characterized by two keywords system and systematicity The former refers to the fact that metaphors conceptual and linguistic are connected within networks and the latter to the need for those metaphors to be studied in such networks

Critical Discourse Studies and Technology Ian Roderick,2016-06-16 Making a new contribution to the developing field of multimodal critical discourse studies Ian Roderick s book demonstrates how technologies that tend to be widely represented as innovative or as simple pragmatic solutions are always anchored in power relations and are therefore deeply ideological A series of examples analysing technologies such as robotics smart phones or bio medicine their functioning and uses as well as their representations in the media show that these are embedded within discourses that tell us about social and power relations identities and political values The book takes a tour of everyday technologies and how they are represented in different settings A Disney theme park attraction showing how technology has improved family life makes many assumptions about what is natural in terms of interpersonal relations pleasure and satisfaction Advertisements that represent robot workers inform us about the kinds of worker management relations now characterising work places Roderick looks at the way that technologies while often represented as divorced from their production and maintenance as objects of wonder need to be seen within a fabric of social relations that tends to be suppressed from how we see them as part of a wider
