

Which service schedule is right for you?

Ford recommends that scheduled service intervals differ, and therefore the extent of servicing that you require, depends upon your use of your vehicle. For example, if you tend to frequent long distances and drive a relatively high number of miles in a year, your servicing requirements will not be the same as if your journeys were mostly around town, perhaps involving in a relatively low mileage at the end of the year.

The following guidelines will help you decide what type of driver you are and thus what sort of servicing is correct for your vehicle.

'NORMAL USAGE' SERVICING

Do you drive less than 20,000 miles a year?

Do you regularly service your vehicle in one or more of the following circumstances?

- For short trips of less than two miles, particularly during winter months when outside temperatures are low.
- For journeys mostly in stop-start urban traffic.
- With sensitive timing, such as a taxi or door-to-door delivery service.

If so, your vehicle requires 'Normal Usage' servicing which is indicated in the following pages by the shaded areas.

If most of your driving is in any of these circumstances you are advised also to have the engine oil and filter changed more frequently than the intervals stated in the service schedules.

An oil and filter change alone can be completed quickly by your Ford Dealer, often in a while-you-wait basis.

'HIGH MILEAGE' SERVICING

Do you drive more than 20,000 miles a year, and are most of your journeys on open roads or motorways?

If so, your vehicle can have 'High Mileage' servicing which is indicated in the following pages by the black areas.

If you are in any doubt about the servicing needs of your vehicle—and the services available to you—talk to your Ford Dealer. He has the knowledge and expertise to advise you.
