Designing for Older Adults Walter Boot, Neil Charness, Sara J. Czaja, Wendy A. Rogers, 2020-09-27 Designing for Older Adults Case Studies Methods and Tools There are many products tools and technologies available that could provide support for older adults However their success requires that they are designed with older adults in mind by being aware of and adhering to design principles that recognize the needs abilities and preferences of diverse groups of older adults Achieving good design is a process facilitated by seeing principles and guidelines in action Design success requires understanding how to use the methods and tools available to evaluate initial ideas and prototypes The goal of this book is to provide illustrative case studies of designing for older adults based on real design challenges faced by the researchers of the Center for Research and Education on Aging and Technology Enhancement CREATE over the past two decades These case studies exemplify the use of human factors tools and user centered design principles to understand the needs of older adults identify where existing designs failed older users and examine the effectiveness of design changes to better accommodate the abilities and preferences of the large and growing aging population Features Reviews important design considerations for older adults and presents a framework for design Provides a series of real world case studies to ground design principles and guidelines Offers a unique set and broad array of design challenges from the design of healthcare devices to computer systems and apps to transportation systems and robots Gives an overview of emerging technologies their potential benefits to older adults anticipated design considerations and new and emerging approaches to evaluating design Covers these topics with designers in mind providing the most up to date recommendations based on the scientific literature but in an accessible easy to understand non technical manner

Computer-Aided Reasoning Matt Kaufmann, Panagiotis Manolios, J Strother Moore, 2013-04-17 Computer Aided Reasoning ACL2 Case Studies illustrates how the computer aided reasoning system ACL2 can be used in productive and innovative ways to design build and maintain hardware and software systems Included here are technical papers written by twenty one contributors that report on self contained case studies some of which are sanitized industrial projects The papers deal with a wide variety of ideas including floating point arithmetic microprocessor simulation model checking symbolic trajectory evaluation compilation proof checking real analysis and several others Computer Aided Reasoning ACL2 Case Studies is meant for two audiences those looking for innovative ways to design build and maintain hardware and software systems faster and more reliably and those wishing to learn how to do this The former audience includes project managers and students in survey oriented courses The latter audience includes students and professionals pursuing rigorous approaches to hardware and software engineering or formal methods Computer Aided Reasoning ACL2 Case Studies can be used in graduate and upper division undergraduate courses on Software Engineering Formal Methods Hardware Design Theory of Computation Artificial Intelligence and Automated Reasoning The book is divided into two parts Part I begins with a discussion of the effort involved in using ACL2 It also contains a brief introduction to the ACL2 logic and its mechanization which is intended to give the reader sufficient background to read the case studies A more thorough textbook introduction to ACL2 may be found in the companion book Computer Aided Reasoning An Approach The heart of the book is Part II where the case studies are presented The case studies contain exercises whose solutions are on the Web In addition the complete ACL2 scripts necessary to formalize the models and prove all the properties discussed are on the Web For example when we say that one of the case studies formalizes a floating point multiplier and proves it correct we mean that not only can you read an English description of the model and how it was proved correct but you can obtain the entire formal content of the project and replay the proofs if you wish with your copy of ACL2 ACL2 may be obtained from its home page The results reported in each case study as ACL2 input scripts as well as exercise solutions for both books are available from this page

Gerontechnologies for Home Support Alexander Moreno, Sumi Helal, Henk Herman Nap, Gloria M. Gutman, 2024-10-07 In recent years various digital and non digital gerontechnology applications in home support have been developed From medication administration aids e g reminders and alarms to environmental monitoring e g air quality sensors and cameras to fall detection and health and activity monitoring e g smartwatch these promising solutions are in the works or already in the marketplace Additionally the COVID 19 pandemic has accelerated the development and deployment of technological solutions supporting remote care and communication e g video calls and home service delivery e g meals and groceries both of which have been developed to facilitate aging in place This is significant especially as avoiding the institutionalization of older adults has become a major goal of governments and caring families around the world These technologies are a potential solution to help older adults and family caregivers age at home maintain autonomy and independence and avoid social isolation These technologies can reduce the workload of professional caregivers It is crucial to update our knowledge on evidence based technologies for home support tested simultaneously in older adults and their family caregivers Healthcare professionals and families are often disadvantaged by a lack of information demonstrating their utility and cost effectiveness This article collection focuses on providing evidence based information about emerging and existing gerontechnologies which is essential to make an informed decision in recommending their use or deciding to purchase them For older adults it will provide proofs upon which to make an informed decision to invest in a specific technology when needed For family caregivers it will improve their judgment when trying to choose purchase and adopt a technology aiming to solve a problem at home and have peace of mind when these technologies are used to support their loved ones For clinicians it will provide a pool of evidence based technological tools that could be recommended to families facing the loss of autonomy and independence of older adults For researchers and scholars it will provide a base of knowledge for future applied research in gerontechnology Finally improving the evidence in gerontechnology will help to provide cues for policymakers and governments to create legislation aiming to protect the public and the end users of these technologies
