High Performance Networking VII A. Tantawy, 2013-06-05 It is always confusing and perhaps inconvenient at times using generic terms that will mean something to everyone but different things to different people High Performance is one of those terms High Performance can be viewed as synonymous to High Speed or Low Latency or a number of other characteristics The interesting thing is that such ambiguity can sometimes be useful in a world where focus shifts quite easily from one issue to another as times and needs evolve Many things have changed since the first HPN conference held in Aachen Germany in 1987 The focus then was mainly on Media Access Control MAC protocols that allow users to share the high bandwidth of optical fiber FDDI Fiber Distributed Data Interface was making its debut with its amazing 100 Mbps speed ATM Asynchronous Transfer Mode and SONET the Synchronous Optical Network were beginning to capture our imagination What could users possibly do with such high performance Share it After realizing that the real problems had gradually shifted away from the network media to the periphery of the network focus also began to shift Adapter design protocol implementation and communication systems architecture began to attract our interest Networking not Networks became the hot issue

High Performance Networking Ramon Puigjaner, 2013-06-05 The communication of information is a crucial point in the development of our future way of life We are living more and more in an information society Perhaps the more obvious applications are those devoted to distributed cooperative multimedia systems In both industry and academia people are involved in such projects HPN 95 is an international forum where both communities can find a place for dialogues and interchanges The conference is targeted to the new mechanisms protocols services and architectures derived from the need of emerging applications as well as from the requirements of new communication environments This workshop belongs to the series started in 1987 in Aachen Germany followed by Liege Belgium in 1988 Berlin Germany in 1991 Liege Belgium again in 1992 and Grenoble France in 1994 HPN 95 is the sixth event of the series sponsored by IFIP WG 6.4 and will be held at the Arxiduc Lluís Salvador building on the campus of the University of the Balearic Islands in Palma de Mallorca Spain from September 13 to 15

The Handbook of Operator Fatigue Gerald Matthews, P.A. Hancock, 2017-11-01 Fatigue is a recognized problem in many facets of the human enterprise It is not confined to any one area of activity but enters all situations in which humans have to perform for extended intervals of time Most problematic are the circumstances in which obligatory action is continuous and the results of failure are evidently serious or even catastrophic Therefore the modern media especially highlights fatigue related failures in industries such as transportation materials processing and healthcare It can be and indeed is no coincidence that most of the spectacular failures in process control that have resulted in the world s largest industrial accidents have occurred in the small hours of the morning when the circadian rhythm is lowest and operator fatigue itself peaks While there have been legislative efforts made at state federal and international levels to regulate working hours of employees the appropriate implementation of such legislation is still a long way off The Handbook of Operator Fatigue provides a comprehensive account of the subject to serve as the definitive reference work for researchers students and practitioners alike The volume features 30 chapters written by experts from around the world to address each important facet of fatigue including the scale of the fatigue problem Section I the nature of fatigue Section II how to assess fatigue Section III the impact of fatigue on health Section IV fatigue in the workplace Section V the neurological basis of fatigue VI sleep disorders VII and the design of countermeasures to fatigue VIII
