It might be argued that the report's findings are biased because the study's participants—the police and other personnel who were interviewed—had positive feelings about the police. But it is unlikely that this is the case.

1. The first step in the process is to identify the problem or issue that needs to be addressed. This involves gathering information and understanding the context of the problem.

These findings suggest that there are some important differences between the two studies.

It must be noted that the results presented in this paper are preliminary and require further validation.
