Choose the best answer for each question and mark the corresponding letter on your scantron. 75 points.

1. The League of Nations was created after World War I as a forum for resolving international conflicts. However, the League was largely unsuccessful at this task.

One factor that contributed to the ineffectiveness of the League was the

- a. Breakup of colonial empires in Africa and Asia
- b. Decision of the U.S. not to join the League
- c. Opposition of League members to the Treaty of Versailles
- d. Rise of the Cold War between the U.S. and USSR

2. In the United States, freedom of the press to report on certain matters may be restricted during wartime because

- a. Reporting military secrets may threaten national security
- b. Laws against libel and slander are strictly enforced during wartime
- c. Materials used to print newspapers must be conserved during wartime
- d. The government has a compelling interest in suppressing opposing views.

3. During World War I, conscientious objectors to military service were often accused of disloyalty, and some conscientious objectors were sentenced to prison. However, other conscientious objectors were willing to accept noncombatant service.

The assignment of conscientious objectors to noncombatant service was an attempt by the government to

- a. Promote ethnic diversity within the military
- b. Educate people about their constitutional rights
- c. Encourage people to apply for conscientious objector status
- d. Balance individual rights and the common good
