Balk, PhD, 2004-01-01 In this comprehensive handbook Charles Corr and David Balk improve our understanding of the challenges faced by adolescents when coping with death dying and bereavement The volume is organized into three parts Part I addresses specific issues involved in confrontations with death Part II focuses on the role of bereavement Part III explains specific therapeutic interventions for caregivers The authors introduce us to adolescence as a special time in the human life cycle a period quite separate from childhood and adulthood They establish normative adolescents and explain developmental tasks that are typical of early middle and late adolescence

Life at Death Kenneth Ring, 1980 What is it like to die Despite the poet's plaint that no one has returned from that dark land to tell us there is a growing body of information about the nature of death Its common basic features have been confirmed and are presented in this extraordinary book the first scientific investigation of the near death experience From interviews with more than a hundred men and women who have come very close to death or have experienced clinical death a state in which vital signs such as heartbeat and respiration are entirely absent and have survived Dr Ring shows that certain elements are common He confirms that findings reported by Raymond Moody concerning the near death experience a sense of floating out of one's body of entering a dark tunnel of experiencing a panoramic life review and of encountering a brilliant golden light In this book Dr Ring elaborates on what happens at the threshold of death He tells of the frequency of these experiences discusses whether the manner in which one almost died illness accident suicide changes the nature of the experience and probes what role religion has in shaping the approach to death He shows that the near death experience is not affected by an individual's ages sex education race or religion He found however that the typical near death experience which he calls the core experience tends to unfold in a series of five stages the deeper the stages the fewer the people who reach it The experience tends to end with an encounter with what is described as a voice or presence that asks whether the person wants to return to life The aftereffects of the core experience are dramatic and profound The fear of death tends to vanish and the total impact is akin to a spiritual rebirth Publisher

The Theology of Death Douglas Davies, 2008-07-31 The first part of the book is grounded in biblical issues and in historical and philosophical theology It seeks to establish several schemes of death theology related for example to early Christianity's Jewish cultural milieu to belief in Christ's resurrection and to Christology to issues of millennial belief and to an emergent liturgical practice The rise of notions of the soul in relation to medieval thought and practice and the place of death in reformation theology are both covered as is the role of the nineteenth and twentieth century Finally the rise of biblical theology is considered especially in the twentieth century The second part of the book takes up several contemporary models of the theology of death The first pursues a traditional acceptance of an otherworldly afterlife the second explores worldly analysis of eternal life as a quality of contemporary existence devoid of any future state The third develops the worldly model and considers a wider sense of self as a part of an ecological view of the world as a divine creation and explores the meaning of birth life and death amidst a divine environment The Theology of Death aims to offer some sharply defined schemes to focus thought in a Christian environment in which death hell and heaven have almost lost their place The topic of hope is a key element and the book explores the birth and fostering of hope within Christian traditions

Hard, Hard Religion John Hayes, 2017-09-19 In his captivating study of faith and class John Hayes examines the ways folk religion in the early twentieth century allowed the South's poor both white and black to listen borrow and learn from each other about what it meant to live as Christians in a world of severe struggle Beneath the well documented religious forms of the New South people caught in the region's poverty crafted a distinct folk Christianity that spoke from the margins of capitalist development giving voice to modern phenomena like alienation and disenchantment Through haunting songs of death mystical tales of conversion grassroots sacramental displays and an ethic of neighborliness impoverished folk Christians looked for the sacred in their midst and affirmed the value of this life in this world From Tom Watson and W E B Du Bois over a century ago to political commentators today many have ruminated on how despite material commonalities the poor of the South have been perennially divided by racism Through his excavation of a folk Christianity of the poor which fused strands of African and European tradition into a new synthesis John Hayes recovers a historically contingent moment of interracial exchange generated in hardship
