Surviving Extremes Nick Middleton, 2004 Nick Middleton returns to pit himself against the four most extreme environments on the planet in this paperback edition of the successful Surviving Extremes

The Biology of Human Survival Claude A. Piantadosi, 2003 The range of environments in which people can survive is extensive yet most of the natural world cannot support human life The Biology of Human Survival identifies the key determinants of life or death in extreme environments from a physiologist's perspective integrating modern concepts of stress tolerance and adaptation into explanations of life under Nature's most austere conditions The book examines how individuals survive when faced with extremes of immersion heat cold or altitude emphasizing the body's recognition of stress and the brain's role in optimizing physiological function in order to provide time to escape or to adapt In illustrating how human biology adapts to extremes the book also explains how we learn to cope by blending behavior and biology first by trial and error then by rigorous scientific observation and finally by technological innovation The book describes life support technology and how it enables humans to enter once unendurable realms from the depths of the ocean to the upper reaches of the atmosphere and beyond Finally it explores the role that advanced technology might play in special environments of the future now in long journeys into space

Surviving the World's Extreme Regions Chris McNab, 2015 The world's elite soldiers can survive in the worst of conditions whether the extreme heat of the desert or the snowy summit of a mountain These units are trained to be experts in warfare but their training also gives them the knowledge to live in the planet's wildest places for weeks at a time Learn the techniques the world's finest soldiers use to survive in harsh conditions around the globe Discover a variety of tips for surviving in barren deserts and freezing tundra Find out how elite troops cope with danger and deprivation You will also learn how to find water and food how to build shelters how to navigate how to perform first aid and how to identify and avoid dangerous animals and insects
