Student-Led Assessment Starr Sackstein, 2024-01-03 The single greatest authority on student learning is the student doing the learning but the right structures must be in place for students voices to be clearly heard and truly valued Conventional formative and summative assessment are most often conducted through one size fits all quizzes and tests that yield narrow predetermined categories of data about students academic progress But if we want a truly accurate look at what how and to what extent students are learning who better to consult than the obvious experts on the matter the students themselves In this lively and comprehensive guide veteran teacher and author Starr Sackstein provides the tools needed to help students compile and present evidence of learning through portfolios and student led conferences from templates and rubrics to personal testimonials reflection questions and activities The book features Forms applicable across grade levels and content areas for unpacking standards co constructing success criteria with students evaluating current classroom practices and more Real life perspectives and scenarios from educators in the field who have embraced portfolios and student led conferences over standardized tests and letter grades Practical experience based guidance for building classroom and schoolwide learning cultures that promote both learner agency and academic achievement The resources recommendations and reflections in Student Led Assessment allow educators at all levels to develop systems and protocols for ensuring student ownership of and pride in their own hard won achievement

Teacher Learning and Power in the Knowledge Society Rosemary Clark, D.W.

Livingstone, Harry Smaller, 2012-09-18 The rise of knowledge workers has been widely heralded but there has been little research on their actual learning practices This book provides the first systematic comparative study of the formal and informal learning of different professional groups with a particular focus on teachers Drawing on unique large scale national surveys of working conditions and learning practices in Canada teachers are compared with doctors and lawyers nurses engineers and computer programmers as well as other professionals The class positions of professionals self employed employers managers or employees and their different collective bargaining and organizational decision making powers are found to have significant effects on their formal learning and professional development PD Teachers learning varies according to their professionally based negotiating and school based decision making powers Two further national surveys of thousands of Canadian classroom teachers as well as more in depth case studies offer more insight into the array of teachers formal and informal learning activities Analyses of regular full time teachers occasional teachers and new teachers probe their different learning patterns The international literature on teacher professional development and related government policies is reviewed and major barriers to job embedded ongoing professional learning are identified Promising alternative forms of integrating teachers work and their professional learning are illustrated Teacher empowerment appears to be an effective means to ensure more integrated professional learning as well as to aid fuller realization of knowledge societies and knowledge economies

Assessment of learning Shrinkhla dubey, 2022-09-30 Assessment of learning Characteristics

Objective Advantages Disadvantages

Early Childhood Education Petr G. Grotewell, Yanus R. Burton, 2008 This book focuses on early childhood education which spans the human life from birth to age 8 Infants and toddlers experience life more holistically than any other age group Social emotional cognitive language and physical lessons are not learned separately by very young children Adults who are most helpful to young children interact in ways that understand that the child is learning from the whole experience not just that part of the experience to which the adult gives attention Although early childhood education does not have to occur in the absence of the parent or primary caregiver this term is sometimes used to denote education by someone other than these the parent or primary caregiver Both research in the field and early childhood educators view the parents as an integral part of the early childhood education process Early childhood education takes many forms depending on the theoretical and educational beliefs of the educator or parent Other terms that is often used interchangeably with early childhood education are early childhood learning early care and early education Much of the first two years of life are spent in the creation of a child s first sense of self or the building of a first identity Because this is a crucial part of children s makeup how they first see themselves how they think they should function how they expect others to function in relation to them early care must ensure that in addition to carefully selected and trained caregivers links with family home culture and home language are a central part of program policy If care becomes a substitute for rather than a support of family children may develop a less than positive sense of who they are and where they come from because of their
