Learning By Doing The PLA Trains At Home And Abroad:

Learning by Doing Army War College (U.S.). Strategic Studies Institute, 2012 Examines how the PLA learns by doing specifically through its exercises and noncombat operations at home and overseas and through key logistical and theoretical developments

Learning by Doing: The PLA Trains at Home and Abroad (Enlarged Edition) Travis Tanner, Roy Kamphausen, David Lai, Strategic Studies Institute, 2013-05-21 To better understand the PLA's ability to employ its developing capabilities in a variety of potential scenarios this year's workshop examined how the PLA learns by doing specifically through its exercises and noncombat operations at home and overseas and through key logistical and theoretical developments Key findings are 1 recent PLAN exercises and operations point to an increasing interest in developing expeditionary naval capabilities and a presence in distant seas suggesting that a move beyond the current near seas focus is both possible and an extension of existing efforts 2 PLA ground force exercises rather than aiming to intimidate others by demonstrating the ability to project power beyond China's borders focus on moving military power within China both to defend China's borders and perhaps as a prelude to military restructuring in which smaller but more mobile formations could replace larger and more static ones

Learning by Doing Roy Kamphausen, David Lai, Travis Tanner, 2019-07-25 To better understand the PLA's ability to employ its developing capabilities in a variety of potential scenarios this year's workshop examined how the PLA learns by doing specifically through its exercises and noncombat operations at home and overseas and through key logistical and theoretical developments Key findings are 1 recent PLAN exercises and operations point to an increasing interest in developing expeditionary naval capabilities and a presence in distant seas suggesting that a move beyond the current near seas focus is both possible and an extension of existing efforts 2 PLA ground force exercises rather than aiming to intimidate others by demonstrating the ability to project power beyond China's borders focus on moving military power within China both to defend China's borders and perhaps as a prelude to military restructuring in which smaller but more mobile formations could replace larger and more static ones 3 through its participation in international military exercises as well as peacekeeping operations and humanitarian aid and disaster relief missions the PLA is gaining greater capabilities to deploy outside of China's borders for a variety of missions and 4 PLA operations are increasingly supported by a modern civilian integrated military logistics network though a lack of overseas bases continues to limit the effectiveness of this network as it pertains to overseas power projection capabilities

Protecting China's Interests Overseas Andrea Ghiselli, 2021-02-04 Protecting China's Interests Overseas provides a fascinating and new window into Chinese foreign and security policymaking In particular it shows how the management of non traditional security issues abroad led to the emergence of China's strategy to defend its interests overseas This book comes at a critical time as China has just inaugurated its first overseas military base in Djibouti thereby establishing a long term military presence outside Asia Based on a large number of Chinese primary sources the book examines how the main actors involved in the making and implementation of Chinese foreign policy understood the problem of protecting the assets and lives of Chinese companies and nationals abroad especially in North Africa and the Middle East and interacted with each other depending on their priorities preferences and organizational interests As the different chapters explore various aspects and dynamics within the Chinese foreign and security policy machine the analysis concludes that the emergence of China s strategy to defend its interests overseas was to a large extent crisis driven The evacuation of 36 000 Chinese nationals from Libya in 2011 was a critical moment in this process Henceforth significant efforts were made to strengthen the capabilities of and coordination between the different agencies under the control of the Chinese leadership especially the Chinese People s Liberation Army Consistently China s military presence abroad expanded and evolved over the years to stabilize the regions where the country s human and economic presence is most significant and to neutralize the non traditional security threats against it However Chinese policymakers still face important challenges and complex dilemmas on the path to formulate a sustainable policy towards this very difficult issue Protecting China s Interests Overseas also offers an opportunity to rethink how we study and understand Chinese foreign policymaking

U.S. Army Campaigns of the Civil War: The Civil War in the West, 1863 Andrew N. Morris, The Civil War in the West 1863 by Andrew N Morris is the latest addition to the Center of Military History s U S Army Campaigns of the Civil War series In 1863 Union and Confederate forces fought for control of Chattanooga a key rail center The Confederates were victorious at nearby Chickamauga in September However renewed fighting in Chattanooga that November provided Union troops a victory control of the city and drove the Confederates south into Georgia The Union success left its armies poised to invade the Deep South the following year

Strategic Asia 2012-13: China's Military Challenge Dan Blumenthal,2012

In Strategic Asia 2012 13 China s Military Challenge leading experts assess and forecast the impact of China s growing military capabilities What are China s strategic aims What are the challenges and opportunities facing the United States How is the region responding to China s military power and to the U S policy of strategic rebalancing

Active Defense M. Taylor Fravel,2020-12-08 Since the 1949 Communist Revolution China has devised nine different military strategies which the People s Liberation Army PLA calls strategic guidelines What accounts for these numerous changes Active Defense offers the first systematic look at China s military strategy from the mid twentieth century to today Exploring the range and intensity of threats that China has faced M Taylor Fravel illuminates the nation s past and present military goals and how China sought to achieve them and offers a rich set of cases for deepening the study of change in military organizations Drawing from diverse Chinese language sources including memoirs of leading generals military histories and document collections that have become available only in the last two decades Fravel shows why transformations in military strategy were pursued at certain times and not others He focuses on the military strategies adopted in 1956 1980 and 1993 when the PLA was attempting to wage war in a new kind of way to show that China has pursued major change in its strategic guidelines when there has been a significant shift in the conduct of warfare in the international system and when China's Communist Party has been united. Delving into the security threats China has faced over the last seven decades, Active Defense offers a detailed investigation into how and why states alter their defense policies. China's Maritime Ambitions and the PLA Navy

Sandeep Dewan, 2013-01-16. China's Maritime Power dates back thousands of years. China has one of the oldest naval traditions in the world dating from at least the end of the Warring States period in 221 BC. Nonetheless, China has historically been a continental state with a large ground force and only a coastal navy with limited blue water capability. The rise of modern day China raises considerable regional and security concerns besides economic and political competition towards finding a rightful place in power politics of the South Asian Region and hence needs a critical analysis. There is a need to focus future strategies to deal with such challenges both in the medium and long term. An effort to achieve the same has been undertaken in this book. The book is sure to stimulate further discussions on China's navy and its ambitions. Foreword by Srikanth Kondapalli. Strategic Reassurance and Resolve James Steinberg, Michael E. O'Hanlon, 2015-08-25. How the United States and China can avoid future conflict and establish stable cooperative relations. After forty years of largely cooperative Sino-US relations, policymakers, politicians, and pundits on both sides of the Pacific see growing tensions between the United States and China. Some go so far as to predict a future of conflict driven by the inevitable rivalry between an established and a rising power and urge their leaders to prepare now for a future showdown. Others argue that the deep economic interdependence between the two countries and the many areas of shared interests will lead to more collaborative relations in the coming decades. In this book, James Steinberg and Michael O'Hanlon stake out a third, less deterministic position. They argue that there are powerful domestic and international factors, especially in the military and security realms, that could well push the bilateral relationship toward an arms race and confrontation even though both sides will be far worse off if such a future comes to pass. They contend that this pessimistic scenario can be confidently avoided only if China and the United States adopt deliberate policies designed to address the security dilemma that besets the relationship between a rising and an established power. The authors propose a set of policy proposals to achieve a sustainable, relatively cooperative relationship between the two nations based on the concept of providing mutual strategic reassurance in such key areas as nuclear weapons and missile defense, space and cyber operations, and military basing and deployments while also demonstrating strategic resolve to protect vital national interests. In the case of the United States, its commitments to regional allies. Tao of Soldiering Nihar Kuanr, 2020-03-30. Soldiering is all about the growth and development of human potential in the military organization. The approach to soldiering in China is apparently distinct as compared to Indian or Western military, and the shaping of soldiery in China has taken a very unique and somewhat enigmatic course. In the context of PLA in the ongoing reform era, a clear shift in the approach to HRM is apparent. One of the most important objectives of the ongoing reforms and restructuring of PLA is to appreciably augment its potential and efficiency for the effective prosecution of Integrated Joint operations IJO for winning Local Wars under Informationised Condition LWUIC This book attempt has been made to take a holistic look at soldiering and development of human potential in PLA thus progressing understanding in the broadly interpreted field of HRM in the context of the Chinese military The author argues that PLA has been adopting a very systematic methodical and focussed approach towards identifying the key issues and addressing them in a time bound manner to enhance the quality of its personnel to include the enlisted personnel NCOs officers and higher leadership However success or failure of HR policies depends as much on several tangible factors educational qualification technological prowess economic and social background as on various intangible aspects influence of culture belief system traditional practices political and ideological factors impinging on the morale motivation and value system The book would enable interested readers to comprehend and grasp the nuances of the development of human potential in the military in general and PLA in specific Various HRD themes like organizational culture leadership efficient decision making etc analyzed in the book can find application in general context as well

The U.S.-China Military Scorecard Eric

Heginbotham, Michael Nixon, Forrest E. Morgan, 2015-09-14 A RAND study analyzed trends in the development of Chinese and U S military capabilities in two scenarios centered on Taiwan and the Spratly Islands and multiple types of operations from 1996 to 2017 China as a Twenty-First Century Naval Power Michael A McDevitt, 2020-10-15 Xi Jinping has made his ambitions for the People s Liberation Army PLA perfectly clear there is no mystery what he wants first that China should become a great maritime power and secondly that the PLA become a world class armed force by 2050 He wants this latter objective to be largely completed by 2035 China as a Twenty First Century Naval Power focuses on China s navy and how it is being transformed to satisfy the world class goal Beginning with an exploration of why China is seeking to become such a major maritime power author Michael McDevitt first explores the strategic rationale behind Xi s two objectives China s reliance on foreign trade and overseas interests such as China s Belt and Road strategy In turn this has created concerns within the senior levels of China s military about the vulnerability of its overseas interests and maritime life lines is a major theme McDevitt dubs this China s sea lane anxiety and traces how this has required the PLA Navy to evolve from a near seas focused navy to one that has global reach a blue water navy He details how quickly this transformation has taken place thanks to a patient step by step approach and abundant funding The more than 10 years of anti piracy patrols in the far reaches of the Indian Ocean has acted as a learning curve accelerator to blue water status McDevitt then explores the PLA Navy s role in the South China Sea and the Indian Ocean He provides a detailed assessment of what the PLAN will be expected to do if Beijing chooses to attack Taiwan potentially triggering combat with America s first responders in East Asia especially the U S Seventh Fleet and U S Fifth Air Force He conducts a close exploration of how the PLA Navy fits into China s campaign plan aimed at keeping reinforcing U S forces at arm s length what the Pentagon calls anti access and area denial

A2 AD if war has broken out over Taiwan or because of attacks on U S allies and friends that live in the shadow of China McDevitt does not know how Xi defines world class but the evidence from the past 15 years of building a blue water force has already made the PLA Navy the second largest globally capable navy in the world This book concludes with a forecast of what Xi s vision of a world class navy might look like in the next fifteen years when the 2035 deadline is reached The Chinese People's Liberation Army in 2025 Roy Kamphausen,David Lai,Army War College (U.S.). Strategic Studies Institute,2015 This updated volume is of special relevance in light of the profound changes occurring within the Chinese People s Liberation Army PLA China s desire to develop a military commensurate with its diverse interests is both legitimate and understandable The challenge for U S Pacific Command USPACOM is to understand how China will employ this growing military capability in support of its interests The book addresses the uncertainty surrounding the potential direction of the PLA by examining three distinct focus areas domestic external and technological drivers of PLA modernization alternative futures for the PLA and Implications for the region world and U S China relations The analysis provides an insightful perspective into the factors shaping and propelling the PLA s modernization its potential future orientation ranging from internally focused to globally focused and how the PLA s choices may impact China s relations with its neighbors and the world Audience Military personnel policy analysts lawmakers and foreign officers in the Asia Pacific region may find many insights in this book pertaining to the development of the Chinese People s Liberation Army under the leadership of Chinese President Xi Jinping High school community college and undergraduate university students pursuing coursework and research for United States 1945 Present global studies and world history classes may find this text helpful for classroom debates about the expansion of the Chinese military role Graduate students may find this work helpful for International Relations Chinese Studies and Global Affairs coursework in the pursuit of a Master s Degree program in these areas China resources collection can be found here <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/catalog/international/foreign-affairs/asia-china> Routledge Handbook of Chinese Security Lowell Dittmer,Maochun Yu,2015-05-08 Located in the center of Asia with one of the largest land frontiers in the world and 14 neighbors whose dispositions could not easily be predicted China has long been obsessed with security In this handbook an internationally renowned team of contributors provide a comprehensive and systematic analysis of contemporary thinking about Chinese national security Chapters cover the PRC s historical ideological and doctrinal heritage related to security its security arrangements and policies targeting key regions and nations of the world the security aspects of the PRC s ground air sea space and cyber forces as well as the changing and expanding definition and scope of China s security theory and practice China's Evolving Surface Fleet Peter Dutton,Ryan D. Martinson,2017 Over the past fifteen years the People s Liberation Army Navy s PLAN s missile fast attack craft and amphibious fleets have been significantly modernized While these two types of vessels have not increased in numbers their capabilities have increased exponentially This publication examines the People s Liberation Army s PLA s doctrine and training strategy in order to analyze present and predict future missions by these military vessels China's deterrence posture is improved greatly by these ships and boats which aid coastal water defense and threaten Taiwanese attempts to gain independence In addition these two fleets improve China's long range sealift capabilities and help with the PLA's traditional and new nontraditional security practices These fleets allow the PLAN to continue offshore operations and begin blue water or far seas operations helping the United States to predict the future nature of Chinese maritime missions Related items China collection of publications can be found here <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/catalog/china> Chinese Military Reforms in the Age of Xi Jinping Drivers Challenges and Implications can be found here <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/products/chinese-military-reforms-age-xi-jinping-drivers-challenges-and-implications> Indian and Chinese Engagement in Latin America and the Caribbean A Comparative Assessment can be found here <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/products/indian-and-chinese-engagement-latin-america-and-caribbean> U S Landpower in the South China Sea can be found here <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/products/us-landpower-south-china-sea>

Small Navies Michael Mulqueen, Deborah Sanders, Ian Speller, 2016-04-01 Whilst maritime studies tend to reflect the dominance of large navies history shows how relatively small naval forces can have a disproportionately large impact on global events From Confederate commerce raiders in the nineteenth century to Somali pirates today even the most minor of maritime forces can become a key player on a global stage Examining a broad range of examples this volume addresses the roles and activities of small navies in the past and the present at the national regional and international level In particular it focusses on the different ways in which such forces have identified and addressed national and international security challenges and the way in which they interact with other navies and security agencies In addition the collection also investigates the relationship of such navies with non governmental organisations institutions and bodies in pursuit of broader maritime goals be they political financial or environmental Adopting an interdisciplinary approach drawing on the best new research from the fields of international relations security studies strategic studies and maritime history the book examines the diversity of experience amongst different smaller navies and also establishes areas of similarity Divided into two sections part one begins with a number of chapters that are theoretical in nature whilst part two provides case studies that offer a more regional focus including analysis of the challenges facing contemporary navies and historical case studies designed to reveal the experience of small navies over time By adopting an approach that combines historical considerations with analysis of current events the collection offers a unique perspective on the role that small navies have played in wider nautical affairs and their continued impact upon global maritime strategies

The End of Grand Strategy Simon Reich, Peter Dombrowski, 2018-01-15 In The End of Grand Strategy Simon Reich and Peter Dombrowski challenge this common view They eschew prescription in favour of describing and explaining what America's military actually does They argue that each presidential administration inevitably resorts to each of the six variant of grand strategy that they implement simultaneously as a result of a series of fundamental recent changes what they term calibrated strategies Reich and Dombrowski support their controversial argument by examining six major maritime operations stretching from America's shores to every region of the globe Each of these operations reflects one major variant of strategy They conclude that grand strategy as we know it is dead
