Christianity and Private Law Robert Cochran, Jr, Michael Moreland, 2020-11-22 This volume examines the relationship between Christian legal theory and the fields of private law Recent years have seen a resurgence of interest in private law theory and this book contributes to that discussion by drawing on the historical theological and philosophical resources of the Christian tradition The book begins with an introduction from the editors that lays out the understanding of private law and what distinguishes private law topics from other fields of law This section includes two survey chapters on natural law and biblical sources The remaining sections of the book move sequentially through the fields of property contracts and torts Several chapters focus on historical sources and show the ways in which the evolution of legal doctrine in areas of private law has been heavily influenced by Christian thinkers Other chapters draw out more contemporary and public policy related implications for private law While this book is focused on the relationship of Christianity to private law it will be of broad interest to those who might not share that faith perspective In particular legal historians and philosophers of law will find much of interest in the original scholarship in this volume The book will be attractive to teachers of law political science and theology It will be of special interest to the many law faculty in property contracts and torts as it provides a set of often overlooked historical and theoretical perspectives on these fields Church Economist ,1897 The Preaching of Daniel Thambirajah (D.T.) Niles Dandapati Samuel
