Thomas, 2017-08-04 Providing a practical guide to the training and assessment of non technical skills within high risk industries this book will be of direct interest to safety and training professionals working within aviation healthcare rail maritime and other high risk industries Currently each of these industries are working to integrate non technical skills into their training and certification processes particularly in light of increasing international regulation in this area However there is no definitive guidance to assist practitioners within these areas with the design of effective non technical skills training and assessment programs This book sets out to fully meet this need It has been designed as a practically focussed companion to the 2008 book Safety at the Sharp End by Flin O Connor and Crichton

While Safety at the Sharp End provides the definitive exploration of the need for non technical skills training and examines in detail the main components of non technical skills as they relate to safe operations the text does not focus on the nuts and bolts of designing training and assessment programs To this end Training and Assessing Non Technical Skills A Practical Guide provides an extension of this work and a fitting companion text Safety at the Sharp End Rhona Flin,Paul O'Connor,2017-05-15 Many 21st century operations are characterised by teams of workers dealing with significant risks and complex technology in competitive commercially driven environments Informed managers in such sectors have realised the necessity of understanding the human dimension to their operations if they hope to improve production and safety performance While organisational safety culture is a key determinant of workplace safety it is also essential to focus on the non technical skills of the system operators based at the sharp end of the organisation These skills are the cognitive and social skills required for efficient and safe operations often termed Crew Resource Management CRM skills In industries such as civil aviation it has long been appreciated that the majority of accidents could have been prevented if better non technical skills had been demonstrated by personnel operating and maintaining the system As a result the aviation industry has pioneered the development of CRM training Many other organisations are now introducing non technical skills training most notably within the healthcare sector Safety at the Sharp End is a general guide to the theory and practice of non technical skills for safety It covers the identification training and evaluation of non technical skills and has been written for use by individuals who are studying or training these skills on CRM and other safety or human factors courses The material is also suitable for undergraduate and post experience students studying human factors or industrial safety programmes
