Transactions on Large-Scale Data- and Knowledge-Centered Systems LVII Abdelkader Hameurlain, A Min Tjoa, 2024-10-24
The LNCS journal Transactions on Large scale Data and Knowledge centered Systems focuses on data management knowledge discovery and knowledge processing which are core and hot topics in computer science. Since the 1990s the Internet has become the main driving force behind application development in all domains. An increase in the demand for resource sharing e.g. computing resources, services, metadata, data sources across different sites connected through networks has led to an evolution of data and knowledge management systems from centralized systems to decentralized systems enabling large scale distributed applications providing high scalability. This is the 57th issue of Transactions on Large scale Data and Knowledge centered Systems contains five fully revised selected regular papers. Topics covered include leveraging machine learning for effective data management, access control models, reciprocal authorizations, Internet of Things, digital forensics, code similarity search, volunteered geographic information and spatial data quality. One Health: The Well-being Impacts of Human-nature Relationships Eric Brymer, Elizabeth Louise Freeman, Miles Richardson, 2019-11-07
In recent years there has been a growing body of evidence from fields such as public health, architecture, ecology, landscape, forestry, psychology, sport science, psychiatry, geography suggesting that nature enhances psychological health and wellbeing. Physical activity in the presence of nature, feelings of connection to nature, engagement with nature specific environmental features e.g. therapeutic water and trees and images of real and virtual nature have all been posited as important wellbeing facilitators. Thus the association between natural environments and health outcomes might be more complex than initially understood. Pritchard, Richardson, Sheffield, Karmanov, Freeman, Akhurst 2015 in the development of wellbeing and health outcomes. Furthermore traditional theoretical notions such as Biophilia, topophilia, restoration theories and stress reduction theories typically used to interpret findings are also being critiqued. Often one of the main barriers for practitioners is the vast array of theories that claim to effectively explain research findings but that tend to be only partially relevant e.g. for Physical activity or restoration focus on the characteristics of the person e.g. nature relatedness and only some features of the landscape e.g. therapeutic landscapes. This special edition therefore brings together cutting edge ideas and research from a wide set of disciplines with the purpose of exploring interdisciplinary or trans disciplinary approaches to understanding the psychological health and wellbeing benefits of human nature interactions. Transportation Infrastructure and Quality of Life for Disadvantage [sic] Populations, 2008. This research is a pilot study aimed to identify environmental characteristics in colonias that are related to infrastructure and safety, access to goods and services and quality of life. A secondary objective consisted of evaluating a variety of tools that could be used to identify and assess these environmental characteristics. El Cenizo in Webb County, Texas was selected as our study colonia after preliminary visits and investigations. A multi disciplinary approach framed this study considering the transportation, urban design and planning, public health and socioeconomic dimensions as potential determinants of the residents mobility behaviors environmental perception and quality of life Three instruments were developed to collect data for this research 1 a survey 2 an activity diary or travel diary and 3 environmental audit instruments Additionally this study also included a small sub group study testing the usability of wearable Global Positioning Systems GPS units as a research tool to capture spatial behavioral data combined with travel diary First the study has generated valuable data on transportation and mobility behaviors where almost no information is available Second the multidisciplinary approach has allowed a comprehensive approach towards a better understanding of the current needs of colonias especially those related to pedestrians Some of them could be easily addressed with direct short term interventions while other require a more long term plans Third the assessment of new research tools offers useful insights for future research in the context of similar low income marginalized communities
