When Victims Become Killers Mahmood Mamdani,2002-09 Rejecting easy explanations of the genocide as a mysterious evil force that was bizarrely unleashed one of Africa s best known intellectuals situates the tragedy in its proper context He coaxes to the surface the historical geographical and political forces that made it possible for so many Hutu to turn so brutally on their neighbors He finds answers in the nature of political identities generated during colonialism in the failures of the nationalist revolution to transcend these identities and in regional demographic and political currents that reach well beyond Rwanda In so doing Mahmood Mamdani broadens understanding of citizenship and political identity in postcolonial Africa Mamdani s analysis provides a foundation for future studies of the massacre His answers point a way out of crisis a direction for reforming political identity in central Africa and preventing future tragedies R sum de l diteur Writing and

Filming the Genocide of the Tutsis in Rwanda Alexandre Dauge-Roth,2010-04-27 Writing and Filming the Genocide of the Tutsis in Rwanda Dismembering and Remembering Traumatic History is an innovative work in Francophone and African studies that examines a wide range of responses to the 1994 genocide of the Tutsis in Rwanda From survivor testimonies to novels by African authors to films such as Hotel Rwanda and Sometimes in April the arts of witnessing are varied comprehensive and compelling Alexandre Dauge Roth compares the specific potential and the limits of each medium to craft unique responses to the genocide and instill in us its haunting legacy In the wake of genocide urgent questions arise How do survivors both claim their shared humanity and speak the radically personal and violent experience of their past How do authors and filmmakers make inconceivable trauma accessible to a society that will always remain foreign to their experience How are we transformed by the genocide through these various modes of listening viewing and reading The Order of Genocide Scott Straus,2013-01-14 The Rwandan genocide has become a touchstone for debates about the causes of mass

violence and the responsibilities of the international community Yet a number of key questions about this tragedy remain unanswered How did the violence spread from community to community and so rapidly engulf the nation Why did individuals make decisions that led them to take up machetes against their neighbors And what was the logic that drove the campaign of extermination According to Scott Straus a social scientist and former journalist in East Africa for several years who received a Pulitzer Prize nomination for his reporting for the Houston Chronicle many of the widely held beliefs about the causes and course of genocide in Rwanda are incomplete They focus largely on the actions of the ruling elite or the inaction of the international community Considerably less is known about how and why elite decisions became widespread exterminatory violence Challenging the prevailing wisdom Straus provides substantial new evidence about local patterns of violence using original research including the most comprehensive surveys yet undertaken among convicted perpetrators to assess competing theories about the causes and dynamics of the genocide Current interpretations stress three main causes for the genocide ethnic identity ideology and mass media indoctrination in particular the influence of hate radio Straus s research does not deny the importance of ethnicity but he finds that it operated more as a background condition Instead Straus emphasizes fear and intra ethnic intimidation as the primary drivers of the violence A defensive civil war and the assassination of a president created a feeling of acute insecurity Rwanda s unusually effective state was also central as was the country s geography and population density which limited the number of exit options for both victims and perpetrators In conclusion Straus steps back from the particulars of the Rwandan genocide to offer a new dynamic model for understanding other instances of genocide in recent history the Holocaust Armenia Cambodia the Balkans and assessing the future likelihood of such events

Introduction to Burundi Gilad James, PhD, Burundi a small landlocked country located in East Africa has a population of approximately 12 million people The country is bordered by Rwanda Tanzania and the Democratic Republic of the Congo Burundi which gained independence from Belgium in 1962 is known for its political instability poverty and ethnic conflict The country has experienced several coups and attempted coups since gaining independence with the most recent one occurring in 2015 Burundi is also known for its civil war which lasted from 1993 to 2005 and claimed the lives of approximately 300 000 people Despite these challenges Burundi remains home to several ethnic groups including the Hutu Tutsi and Twa people and has a rich cultural heritage Burundi is primarily an agricultural economy with coffee and tea being the main exports However the country also has significant deposits of nickel cobalt and uranium Burundi has a relatively young population with over half of its inhabitants being under the age of 25 The country has made significant progress in improving its healthcare and education systems with a particularly strong focus on increasing access for girls and women The government has also implemented policies aimed at reducing poverty and promoting economic development Despite these efforts Burundi remains one of the poorest countries in the world with the majority of the population living below the poverty line Rwanda Mining Laws and Regulations Handbook Volume 1 Strategic Information and Basic Law IBP, Inc.,2016-05-29 2011 Updated Reprint Updated Annually Rwanda Mining Laws and Regulations Handbook Developments in Europe, October 1989 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs. Subcommittee on Europe and the Middle East,1988 Victim Organisations and the Politics of Reparation Heidy Rombouts,2004 Reparation for victims of gross and systematic human rights violations is a contemporary issue gaining increased attention in both national and international politics Post conflict societies have to face the legacies of the dark past and dealing with a large group of victims is one of them Transitional justice mechanisms trying to cope with the past should not overlook the issue of reparation This research demonstrates how reparation for victims of gross and systematic human rights violations differs from reparation for isolated violations The Rwandan case study unveils the role of victim organisations in and the competition and politicisation of the reparation debate Although reparation for victims is a crucial element in transitional justice it becomes clear that the way in which the reparation debate unfolds does not necessarily contribute to the peaceful future of a post conflict society This study argues that remedying the process and debate of the search for reparation will lead to an improved and more constructive reparation policy Heidy Rombouts is a legal and social scientist 1997 Master of Laws 1999 Master in Social and Political Sciences Catholic University of Leuven In 2004 she obtained a PhD degree in Social and Political Sciences at the University of Antwerp for her research on victim organisations and the politics of reparation For several years she has been conducting research on transitional justice human rights and post conflict situations including extensive field research in South Africa and Rwanda African Studies Review ,1998
