Creating Safe and Supportive Learning Environments Emily S. Fisher, Karen Komosa-Hawkins, 2013-04-17 The importance of creating safe spaces for lesbian gay bisexual transgender and questioning LGBTQ students in the school environment cannot be overstated. It is one of the most prominent issues facing school professionals today and its success has lasting positive effects on the entire student body. Drawing on the expertise of researchers and practitioners, Creating Safe and Supportive Learning Environments provides a comprehensive examination of the topics most relevant for school professionals. The first section lays out the theoretical foundation and background school professionals need to understand the social and political trends that impact LGBTQ individuals, the development of sexual orientation and gender identity risk and resilience factors, and the intersection of LGBTQ identity with other aspects of diversity. The second section explores topics critical for the development of safe supportive school environments, including understanding legal and ethical mandates, training school personnel addressing bullying and harassment, and developing inclusive classrooms. Special topics related to counseling LGBTQ students, supporting families of LGBTQ students, becoming an ally and advocate in the schools, and connecting with community resources are also covered. Do You Really Think I Want to Annoy You? Patricia Ritz, 2014-05-20 This book is about Pats' journey and her search through most of her life for a church where she could fit in, be able to be herself spiritually, and not annoy people. In the autobiographical chapters about her life and her searching, Pat hopes will give you some insight into her personality that has driven her to write Do You Really Think I Want to Annoy You. When you are bursting at the seams to share the light that now shines in your heart with those you love—immediate family, extended family, church family, and friends—it is impossible she has found not to annoy people. She hopes this book will help those in her life and those she has never met to see that the light of God's Spirit is meant to be for everyone.
