A Farewell to Adolescence

One of the scariest things about being in the Leaving Cert. is realising that you are the oldest pupils in the school. In the first couple of days it gently hits you that the people who once intimidated you so much are all gone. Any intimidation that goes on now is probably your esteemed self complaining (loudly) in the presence of first years about how cheeky and wild they are. At this stage you usually find yourself commenting on the fact that your own years were NEVER that rude and boisterous, and you begin to despair for the youth of today. Where, oh where, did they ever go wrong?

It is about now you realise that you're beginning to grow up. Talking about the 'youth of today' sets off alarm bells in your head because you've started to distance yourself from this section of society. You no longer include yourself in the category of 'teenager' or 'adolescent'. Technically, you'll be a teenager until the end of your nineteenth year, but being as mature and responsible as you are, you handily disregard this fact!

After the first couple of days in the Leaving Cert, it not-so-gently whacks you full-in-the-face that other people have also started to regard you as a young adult. Teachers, parents, and adults in general expect you to think and act more responsibly, as befits your new position in society. THAT's when you discover the role of a young adult has as many drawbacks as advantages.

The first problem encountered is that of choosing a career! Of course, you'd always realised that EVENTUALLY you'd have to decide what to do with the rest of your life. But never in your wildest dreams or worst nightmares did you imagine just how difficult it would really be. The careers teacher bombards you with information about points, open days, college prospectus, CAO-CAS forms, subject choices, apprentices and requirements. It vaguely registers somewhere in the back of your mind that you've heard all this before (perhaps in last years careers class???) but you weren't really listening (at the time) because it was just kind of boring and irrelevant. Right now it's about as far away from irrelevant as it can possibly be, and your head is in a whirl. Oh, to be back in first year when everything was simple and all anyone seemed to talk about was how wild and cheeky you were!

Added to this burden of deciding what to do with the rest of your life, is the workload of the average Leaving Certificate pupil. You seem to spend at least three hours every night doing homework alone. Wondering when you'll get around to revising fourth year work is useless – you simply DON'T HAVE THE TIME! Every teacher seems to have some comment to make about how little work you've done, and how much you've left to cover. Being a fulfilled, happy individual, however, you don't despair and it never even enters your head how hopeless everything is...

Privacy and Security in the Digital Age Michael Friedewald,Ronald Pohoryles,2016-01-13 Privacy and data protection are recognized as fundamental human rights Recent developments however indicate that security issues are used to undermine these fundamental rights As new technologies effectively facilitate collection storage processing and combination of personal data government agencies take advantage for their own purposes Increasingly and for other reasons the business sector threatens the privacy of citizens as well The contributions to this book explore the different aspects of the relationship between technology and privacy The emergence of new technologies threaten increasingly privacy and or data protection however little is known about the potential of these technologies that call for innovative and prospective analysis or even new conceptual frameworks Technology and privacy are two intertwined notions that must be jointly analyzed and faced

Technology is a social practice that embodies the capacity of societies to transform themselves by creating the possibility to generate and manipulate not only physical objects but also symbols cultural forms and social relations In turn privacy describes a vital and complex aspect of these social relations Thus technology influences people s understanding of privacy and people s understanding of privacy is a key factor in defining the direction of technological development This book was originally published as a special issue of Innovation The European Journal of Social Science Research The Engineer ,1858 The Advocate ,2004-01-20 The Advocate is a lesbian gay bisexual transgender LGBT monthly newsmagazine Established in 1967 it is the oldest continuing LGBT publication in the United States Hybrid and Internationalised Criminal Tribunals Sarah Williams,2012-04-02 In recent years a number of criminal tribunals have been established to investigate prosecute and try individuals accused of serious violations of international humanitarian law and international human rights law These tribunals have been described as hybrid or internationalised tribunals as their structure and applicable law consist of both international and national elements Six such tribunals are currently in operation the Special Court for Sierra Leone the Extraordinary Chambers in the Courts of Cambodia the International Judges and Prosecutors Programme in Kosovo the War Crimes Chamber for Bosnia and Herzegovina the Iraqi High Tribunal and the Special Tribunal for Lebanon The Special Panels for Serious Crimes in East Timor suspended operation in May 2005 although there continues to be some international involvement in investigation and prosecution of serious crimes Suggestions have also been made that this model of tribunal would be appropriate for the prosecution of atrocities committed in among others Burundi the Sudan the Democratic Republic of Congo Kenya and Liberia as well as for a wider range of international crimes most recently piracy The key aims of this book are to place the model of hybrid and internationalised tribunals in the context of other mechanisms to try international crimes to examine the increasing demand for the establishment of hybrid and internationalised judicial institutions and the factors driving such demand to define the category of hybrid and internationalised tribunals by examining the key features of the existing and proposed hybrid or internationalised tribunals as well as the features of those institutions with international elements that are generally excluded from this category to determine the legal and jurisdictional bases of existing hybrid and internationalised tribunals to analyse how the legal and jurisdictional basis of a tribunal affects other issues such as the applicable law the application of amnesties and immunities and the relationship of the tribunal with the host state third states national courts and other international criminal tribunals The book concentrates on the definitional legal and jurisdictional aspects of hybrid and internationalised criminal tribunals as this has been the subject of some confusion in arguments before the tribunals and in the judgments of the tribunals In its concluding section the book examines the future role of internationalised and hybrid criminal tribunals particularly in light of the establishment of the ICC and the potential use of such tribunals in other contexts It also assesses how hybrid and internationalised tribunals fit into a multi layered framework of international criminal law and transitional justice The
