Schatz herausholen als Sie sich bisher vorstellen konnten Reference Services for Archives and Manuscripts Laura B Cohen, 2012-11-12 Like their librarian colleagues reference archivists mediate between the user and the source material However given the nature of archival materials and of their holding repositories unique issues arise While such matters as provenance and original order and access and security continue to be vital underpinnings of their work a myriad of other issues comes into play as reference archivists attempt to balance the competing demands of donors researchers the public and the press From the creation and dissemination of finding aids for electronic resources to the implementation of marketing strategies to increase support and strengthen service Reference Services for Archives and Manuscripts shows you how to thrive in the changing world of archival reference Intended to foster an appreciation of the issues both within and beyond the field of archives Reference Services for Archives and Manuscripts reveals that today's archivist is straddling the world of the traditional with the world of the new The book establishes its value as it guides you through new concerns such as how to take advantage of technological developments in appraisal accession and preservation address copyright privacy and funding issues for electronic resources mount archival cataloging records on local and wide area databases create a publicly available site on the Internet improve in house access tools professional abilities and the caliber of public service address security issues and respond to theft Reference Services for Archives and Manuscripts also helps you by preparing you for changes in the relationship between archivist and researcher that will inevitably occur with further changes in technology Other vital issues discussed are improved access for unserved and underserved groups a revision in ethical codes and the ability of archivists to become more customer centered Tapping State Government Information Sources Lori L. Smith, Daniel C. Barkley, Daniel D. Cornwall, Eric W. Johnson, J. Louise Malcomb, 2003-11-30 Each state government produces large varieties and quantities of useful information that are largely unknown outside their state of origin This book leads the public to the most useful information sources produced by each state as well as to depository libraries that will facilitate more effective research For each of the 50 states important publications are detailed along with information on how to obtain them The publications topics range from crime statistics to vital statistics business statistics health information statistical abstracts education directories state budgets economic indicators state laws and legal information and more Tapping State Government Information Sources has a broader focus than previously published books in this subject area most of which have focused solely on depository laws useful state publications or indexes to state publications This book covers all three The first chapter describes print and electronic sources that provide information about all 50 states Each state's resources are then described in individual chapters When possible information about how to order a copy of the source is given as are Web addresses for titles that are available online At the beginning of each state chapter the state's legal definition of public document or its equivalent is given which may be of interest to librarians in states that are reexamining their own depository laws Public Health Nursing - Revised Reprint Marcia Stanhope, Jeanette
