8. What happens to Huckle's father, and why is Huck a Huckle? Huck's father is a drunken, violent man who is abusive and neglectful. 12. How does the new judge tell Huck, and what lesson does the judge learn?
- The new judge tells Huck to let Huck go, free his father's custody and something to religion. Huck's father, Huck's father, says the judge wrong by selling his new judge for money and making him shut in the yard. The judge learns that some people, like Huck's father, cannot be as easily helped.

11. Where does Huck's father take him, and why does Huck fear the man? Is he scary, from before? Huck's father takes him to a cabin in the woods and beats him and roasts him in the cabin. Before, Huck fears the man because he knows he is a drunk and because he knows that it is his only option to escape his father's abuse.
12. How does Huck's father react to seeing a free-black man in town? What does this reveal about his character and beliefs? Huck's father is outraged that a black man is well-dressed, educated, and even has the right to vote, which he says is an insult to himself and others who are "lesser than swine." He is also shocked that a free black man would be in town, and he is angry that the man is so well-dressed and educated and even has the right to vote.
