Human Development Report:

Human Development Report, 2005      The Asia-Pacific Human Development Report, 2010      Human Development Report 1992 United Nations Development Programme, 1992 Since its headline making debut the Human Development Report has become an essential resource for development specialists economists and political scientists around the world The 1992 Report not only updates the findings of the earlier volumes but also examines the international dimensions of human development showing how global economic growth and the expansion of the world economy have filtered down to poor economies and poor people in developing countries In addition it examines links between human development and international markets for products capital and labor addresses issues of global governance and presents updated human development indicators for more than 160 countries      Human Development Report 2023/2024 United Nations Development Programme, 2024-03-13 Today collective action on challenges ranging from climate change mitigation to peace and security is frustratingly slow or stymied altogether Lack of trust and polarization both associated with insecurity exacerbate the gridlock Shared interlinked global challenges like the pandemic and its recovery are outpacing our willingness and our institutions capacities to respond to them Why despite all our riches and technologies are we so stuck How do we get unstuck Is it possible to mobilize action to address globally shared challenges in a world that is intensively polarized The 2023 2024 Human Development Report explores these issues and offers a platform for strategic discussion on how to move beyond narrow zero sum thinking and support cooperation even as we have diverging interests and views The e book for this publication has been converted into an accessible format for the visually impaired and people with print reading disabilities It is fully compatible with leading screen reader technologies such as JAWS and NVDA      Human Development Report 2004 United Nations Development Programme, 2004 This is the 15th report prepared by a team of independent experts which explores major development issues of global concern The 2004 report focuses on issues of cultural liberty and concludes that countries must actively devise multicultural policies to prevent cultural discrimination whether on grounds of religion ethnicity or language since the expansion of cultural freedoms is at the core of human development Rather than presenting a threat to state unity the report argues that diversity is the only sustainable option to promote stability and democracy within and across societies Issues discussed include confronting extremist movements for cultural domination myths surrounding cultural liberty and development the impact of globalisation on cultural choice social exclusion human rights and participation It also includes data tables for the Human Development Index HDI which measures key social and economic indicators for rich and poor countries including life expectancy health and sanitation employment rights gender equality education and income per person      Human Development Report 1999 ,      Human Development Report 1998 United Nations Development Programme,      Human Development Report 2005 United Nations Development Programme, 2005 The Human Development Report 2005 examines the scale of the challenge facing the world at the start of the ten year countdown to the 2015 Millennium Development Goals mark The Report focuses on three pillars of cooperation each of which is in urgent need of renovation The first pillar is international aid the Millennium Development Goals MDGs project has been compromised by chronic and sustained under financing allied to problems in aid quality The second pillar is international trade Under the right conditions trade can act as a powerful catalyst for human development The development round of World Trade Organization talks launched in 2001 provided northern governments with an opportunity to create those conditions The third pillar is that of security violent conflict is a source of systematic human rights violation and a barrier to progress towards the MDGs that must be overcome

Human Development Report 1990 United Nations Development Programme,1990 First in a series of annual reports this volume is about people and about how development enlarges their choices access to income long life knowledge political freedom personal security community participation and guaranteed human rights It measures human development not by the yardstick of income alone but by the human development index reflecting life expectancy literacy and command over resources to enjoy a decent standard of living The report analyzes the record of human development for the last three decades and the experience of 14 countries in managing economic growth and human development The volume concludes with human development indicators for more than 130 countries both developing and developed ISBN 0 19 306481 X pbk 15 95

Human Development Report 2007/2008 United Nations Development Programme,2015-12-29 This year s Human Development Report explains why we have less than a decade to change course and start living within our global carbon budget and how climate change will create long run low human development traps pushing vulnerable people into a downward spiral of deprivation
