Rick Browne is the author of twelve cookbooks, most of which deal with barbecue and grilling. In this volume, he's created an encyclopedic collection of recipes drawn from cuisines around the world with a particular focus on North American and Asian traditions. Browne begins with a brief primer on basic grilling techniques, but the real substance of this book is the dazzling array of recipes. You'll find dishes everyone can enjoy, including standard grill fare like beef and chicken, as well as the more unusual shellfish and wild game. There are plenty of vegetarian options too, and a section for sauces, marinades and rubs. Never before have this many great grilling recipes been collected into one tome. If you love to grill or know someone else who does, this is a must-have resource. It's the only grilling recipe book you'll ever need. I play around with my grills all the time, but I found loads of new ideas in this grill cookbook. Rockport Lobster and Shrimp Burgers, yum! Gloria Pitzer's Cookbook - the Best of the Recipe Detective Gloria Pitzer, 2018-01-15. FAMOUS FOODS FROM FAMOUS PLACES have intrigued good cooks for a long time, even before fast foods of the 1950's were a curiosity. When cookbooks offer us a sampling of good foods, they seldom devote themselves to the dishes of famous restaurants. There is speculation among the critics as to the virtues of re-creating at home the foods that you can buy eating out, such as the fast food fares of the popular franchise restaurants. To each his own. Who would want to imitate fast food at home? I found that over a million people who saw me demonstrate replicating some famous fast food products on The Phil Donahue Show (July 7, 1981) DID, and their letters poured in at a rate of over 15,000 a day for months on end. And while I have investigated the recipes, dishes and cooking techniques of fine dining rooms around the world, I received more requests from people who wanted to know how to make things like McDonald's Special Sauce or General Foods Shake 'N Bake coating mix or White
