Hannah More - Celebs in Search of a Wife Hannah More, 2017-07-31 Hannah More was born on February 2nd 1745 at Fishponds in the parish of Stapleton near Bristol She was the fourth of five daughters The City of Bristol at that time was a centre for slave trading and Hannah would over time become one of its staunchest critics She was keen to learn possessed a sharp intellect and was assiduous in studying Hannah first wrote in 1762 with The Search after Happiness by the mid 1780s some 10 000 copies had been sold In 1767 Hannah became engaged to William Turner After six years with no wedding in sight the engagement was broken off Turner then bestowed upon her an annual annuity of 200 This was enough to meet her needs and set her free to pursue a literary career

Her first play The Inflexible Captive was staged at Bath in 1775. The famous David Garrick himself produced her next play Percy in 1777 as well as writing both the Prologue and Epilogue for it. It was a great success when performed at Covent Garden in December of that year. Hannah turned to religious writing with Sacred Dramas in 1782; it rapidly ran through nineteen editions. These and the poems Bas Bleu and Florio 1786 mark her gradual transition to a more serious and considered view of life. Hannah contributed much to the newly founded Abolition Society including in February 1788 her publication of Slavery a Poem recognised as one of the most important of the abolition period. Her work now became more evangelical. In the 1790s she wrote several Cheap Repository Tracts which covered moral religious and political topics and were both for sale or distributed to literate poor people. The most famous is perhaps The Shepherd of Salisbury Plain describing a family of incredible frugality and contentment. Two million copies of these were circulated in one year. In 1789 she purchased a small house at Cowslip Green in Somerset. She was instrumental in setting up twelve schools in the area by 1800. She continued to oppose slavery throughout her life but at the time of the Abolition Bill of 1807 her health did not permit her to take as active a role in the movement as she had done in the late 1780s although she maintained a correspondence with Wilberforce and others. In July 1833 the Bill to abolish slavery throughout the British Empire passed in the House of Commons followed by the House of Lords on August 1st. Hannah More died on September 7th 1833.

Each edition is edited by J R Waller and comes complete with updated notes and formatting. This Hannah More book Volume 1 is More's famous series of essays for women that highlight the importance of Christian conduct. Hannah More 1745-1833 was one of the defining Christian female voices of Georgian Britain. An influential Evangelical writer, her vast literary output included essays, hymns, plays, poems, popular tracts, her Cheap Repository Tracts sold millions of copies and a novel while her philanthropic spirit established schools for children, women's clubs and improved the conditions of the poor. She was a member of The Blue Stockings Society of England and was connected with many notable figures of her era including Edmund Burke, David Garrick, Samuel Johnson, Sir Joshua Reynolds, Horace Walpole and the abolitionist William Wilberforce whose campaign to end the British slave trade was greatly aided by her poem Slavery. Hannah steadfastly supported piety, traditional Christian values and education, her zeal even taking on Thomas Paine and the French Revolution. As England began to grapple with its industrial and scientific revolutions, More helped prepare British society for the challenges of the 19th century by promoting Biblical values and Evangelical social reforms. She was a paragon of her age and a beacon for Christ.
