Clavin,1995-12-17 Based on new archival research this is the first comprehensive study of the failure of international co operation to combat the Great Depression The book explores the impact of protectionism reparations and war debts as well as the more well known disagreements on monetary issues which together helped to prolong the most profound economic depression of the twentieth century The economic and diplomatic lessons drawn from this period by the major powers particularly German intelligence as to the deep divisions in Anglo American economic relations also provide an important contribution to understanding the origins of the Second World War and the diplomatic and economic order created in its aftermath The Economist ,1901 Publications Abstracts Environmental Research Laboratories (U.S.),1992 Index of Specifications and Standards ,2002 Daily Graphic Nana Addo Twum,1981-01-15 Bibliography of Agriculture with Subject Index ,1993 Worth Saving Anne Egelston,2022-08-31 This textbook is intended to be used in an upper level international environmental issues class as part of the American Environmental Studies and Sciences book series This class is commonly taught at both the undergraduate and graduate level as part of either an environmental studies program a political science program or within a policy track of an environmental science program Given the length of time that negotiations have occurred a new generation of students and practitioners will need to understand the complex processes that produced many of our environmental treaties The majority of the students in environmental studies do not have a background in political science Moving from a political science approach to an interdisciplinary approach will benefit the students by making the material more accessible As these fields continue to grow and develop regulatory compliance becomes increasingly important Thus this book is aimed at adding a business and industry perspective to this field where appropriate The Geopolitics of Spectacle Natalie Koch,2018-06-15 Why do autocrats build spectacular new capital cities In The Geopolitics of Spectacle Natalie Koch considers how autocratic rulers use spectacular projects to shape state society relations but rather than focus on the standard approach on the project itself she considers the unspectacular others The contrasting views of those from the poorest regions toward these new national capitals help her develop a geographic approach to spectacle Koch uses Astana in Kazakhstan to exemplify her argument comparing that spectacular city with others from resource rich nondemocratic nations in central Asia the Arabian Peninsula and Southeast Asia The Geopolitics of Spectacle draws new political geographic lessons and shows that these spectacles can be understood only from multiple viewpoints sites and temporalities Koch explicitly theorizes spectacle geographically and in so doing extends the analysis of governmentality into new empirical and theoretical terrain With cases ranging from Azerbaijan to Qatar and Myanmar and an intriguing account of reactions to the new capital of Astana from the poverty stricken Aral Sea region of Kazakhstan Koch's book provides food for thought for readers in human geography anthropology sociology urban studies political science international affairs and post Soviet and central Asian studies
