Manual for Enlightenment Lincoln Stoller, 2024-11-01 This book is not offering enlightenment it's describing it. The enlightened mind unites intellect and emotion despite their separation being built into the structure of our brains. This split appears in the mythic division between our lower and higher natures and the separation of mind and body. Intellect and emotion function in concert. As color and shape are to vision one complements the other. When fully integrated they cannot be taken apart. The topics in the book's first half lean toward the intellectual. The second half looks at the division from the emotional side. What we are separating with one hand we are putting together with the other. Struggle We naturally consider our problems as different from ourselves. We see them in our environment and rely on our skills and insights to resolve them. Our intellectual solutions address one aspect of these problems while our emotions address another. Are these problems to be solved or processes to be understood? What should we do if our problems are inside us? Mind Your state determines your readiness arousal and self reflection. Your state of mind orients your thinking how you can feel about yourself and who you're able to be. Equally important are thoughts you're not likely to have or cannot have at all. This book is about the states of mind that support focus awareness thoughts and feelings. It's not a guide to solving problems it's an explanation of how you see State. With our state of mind we gather our thoughts and focus our attention. Focus without a state is like a telescope with no one to look through it. In order to focus first take full responsibility for all you think and feel. The properties of your state determine what you're capable of. One state of mind is not enough because you cannot understand the world from one point of view. Your future is determined by your range of states of mind. Wisdom Alternate states of mind support understandings.
