Civic Learning for Alienated, Disaffected and Disadvantaged Students Xiaoxue Kuang,Jinxin Zhu,Kerry J. Kennedy,2021-05-14 In their journeys to engaged citizenship civic education is a right for all students helping them to become active and informed However for some students there are barriers to engagement It is these barriers that are dealt with in this book Civic education is a key component of the school curriculum irrespective of country and political system Ensuring that young people understand the political and social contexts of their country and indeed their planet is a key requirement in a rapidly changing and unpredictable world Providing access to civic learning therefore is a priority for schools and the societies in which they are embedded Yet for some students barriers exist which prevent a deep understanding of the requirements for full participation and engagement These students are neglected not only in schools but in research as well This book seeks to fill that gap by shining a light on the multiple disadvantages that many students suffer in seeking to exercise their rights as active and informed citizens The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Educational Psychology      Engineering Psychology and Cognitive Ergonomics Don Harris,2009-07-15 The 13th International Conference on Human Computer Interaction HCI Inter tional 2009 was held in San Diego California USA July 19 24 2009 jointly with the Symposium on Human Interface Japan 2009 the 8th International Conference on Engineering Psychology and Cognitive Ergonomics the 5th International Conference on Universal Access in Human Computer Interaction the Third International Conf ence on Virtual and Mixed Reality the Third International Conference on Internati alization Design and Global Development the Third International Conference on Online Communities and Social Computing the 5th International Conference on Augmented Cognition the Second International Conference on Digital Human Mod ing and the First International Conference on Human Centered Design A total of 4 348 individuals from academia research institutes industry and gove mental agencies from 73 countries submitted contributions and 1 397 papers that were judged to be of high scientific quality were included in the program These papers dress the latest research and development efforts and highlight the human aspects of the design and use of computing systems The papers accepted for presentation thoroughly cover the entire field of human computer interaction addressing major advances in knowledge and effective use of computers in a variety of application areas      The Middling Sorts Maureen T. Hallinan,2000-04-30 The aim of the Handbook of Sociology of Education is to present the most theoretically grounded and empirically rigorous sociological analyses of schools to date The authors are distinguished researchers in the field Their contributions to the Handbook offer major theoretical perspec tives on the schooling process and describe significant empirical studies of schools and their effects on individuals and society The research presented in the Handbook is built on three fundamental tenets of sociol ogy First the authors adopt the perspective that schools are a central institution in society An understanding of the function of schooling in social life is enhanced by viewing schools as interrelated with other societal institutions The study of how the context of schooling influ ences education processes is critical to an understanding of school outcomes Rather than being determined solely by ascribed and achieved characteristics an individual s cognitive and social development are influenced heavily by the structures and networks in which the individual is embedded Communities families schools and social groups are critical ele ments in the educative process By viewing the school as a societal institution and highlighting the interaction between context and individual behavior the Handbook chapters provide a broader and deeper understanding of the determinants of learning in contemporary society The second sociological insight that guides the research in the Handbook is that the school is a social system      *Catalog of Copyright Entries. Oxford Handbook of Internet Psychology Adam Joinson,Katelyn McKenna,Tom Postmes,Ulf-Dietrich Reips,2009-02-12

Over one billion people use the Internet globally Psychologists are beginning to understand what people do online and the impact being online has on behaviour It's making us re think many of our existing assumptions about what it means to be a social being For instance if we can talk flirt meet people and fall in love online this challenges many of psychology's theories that intimacy or understanding requires physical co presence The Oxford Handbook of Internet Psychology brings together many of the leading researchers in what can be termed Internet Psychology Though a very new area of research it is growing at a phenomenal pace In addition to well studied areas of investigation such as social identity theory computer mediated communication and virtual communities the volume also includes chapters on topics as diverse as deception and misrepresentation attitude change and persuasion online Internet addiction online relationships privacy and trust health and leisure use of the Internet and the nature of interactivity With over 30 chapters written by experts in the field the range and depth of coverage is unequalled and serves to define this emerging area of research Uniquely this content is supported by an entire section covering the use of the Internet as a research tool including qualitative and quantitative methods online survey design personality testing ethics and technological and design issues While it is likely to be a popular research resource to be dipped into as a whole volume it is coherent and compelling enough to act as a single text book The Oxford Handbook of Internet Psychology is the definitive text on this burgeoning field It will be an essential resource for anyone interested in the psychological aspects of Internet use or planning to conduct research using the net
