Case Notes
Becky took me to her bedroom to show me her new school hat and tie. We then played with her dollhouse. She was a little shy but quickly began speaking freely as we played. She spoke about her new friends next door who had lent her several books she was enjoying. She states she is looking forward to telling her mom about her new friends next week. She did not elaborate further on this topic. Alice Had a sit-down with Alice after talking with Becky. She reports Alice has been settling in well and started playing with the neighbor's children after school. She states she "has no concerns" to raise. Education Becky is doing well at school. Alice showed me Becky's latest art project and a special note from her teacher commenting on how well Becky focuses during art and enjoys painting. Becky's home teacher has suggested she join additional painting classes for gifted students, and I discussed the required equipment list with Alice. Family Becky sees Jane (mom) every Thursday afternoon between 3.30 and 4.30pm at our office. Tom (Jane's partner) sometimes comes along to the visits with Jane. No issues were raised by Alice.
Next Steps
Apply for funds for Becky's art club equipment, obtained estimate from Alice today. Phone Alice with date of my next visit by 07.20.2022

Axiomatic Bargaining Game Theory H.J. Peters, 2013-04-17 Many social or economic conflict situations can be modeled by specifying the alternatives on which the involved parties may agree and a special alternative which summarizes what happens in the event that no agreement is reached Such a model is called a bargaining game and a prescription assigning an alternative to each bargaining game is called a bargaining solution In the cooperative game theoretical approach bargaining solutions are mathematically characterized by desirable properties usually called axioms In the noncooperative approach solutions are derived as equilibria of strategic models describing an underlying bargaining procedure Axiomatic Bargaining Game Theory provides the reader with an up to date survey of cooperative axiomatic models of bargaining starting with Nash's seminal paper The Bargaining Problem. It presents an overview of the main results in this area during the past four decades. Axiomatic Bargaining Game Theory provides a chapter on noncooperative models of bargaining in particular on those models leading to bargaining solutions that also result from the axiomatic approach. The main existing axiomatizations of solutions for coalitional bargaining games are included as well as an auxiliary chapter on the relevant demands from utility theory.

The Power to Protect Catherine Button, 2004-11 This book examines the intersection of WTO trade liberalisation rules and domestic health protection a subject that is of considerable interest to those concerned that the WTO impinges on national regulatory autonomy. In analysing the tension between health protection and trade liberalisation the book focuses on the way in which this tension is or is not resolved through the dispute resolution process. It offers a detailed analysis of the relevant WTO rules and case law identifying particular concerns relating to the ability of WTO Members to take protective action in circumstances of scientific uncertainty and the role of social and cultural factors in the making of health related regulations. The nature of scientific evidence and the extent to which the scientific process internalises uncertainty is further explored drawing on documentation relating to the theory and conduct of scientific risk assessment. Despite the popularity of the precautionary principle in some quarters it is suggested that it may not be advisable for the WTO to adopt that principle. Rather further attention should be paid to the role that the standard of review might play in easing the tensions that arise when a sovereign state's health regulations are reviewed by the WTO. The origins of the WTO's objective assessment standard of review are explained but the standard itself is criticised. Options for developing the standard of review are considered with a reasonable regulator standard based on the Asbestos case proposed. The book takes a comparative approach drawing on ECJ cases reviewing Member State and Community health measures as well as US judicial review and commerce clause cases.
