Steps on the Path to Enlightenment Lhundub Sopa, 2017-12-12 The final installment of the Steps on the Path to Enlightenment series examines the nature of reality with a master class in Buddhist Middle Way philosophy and meditation. The late Geshe Sopa was a refugee monk from Tibet sent to the United States by the Dalai Lama in 1963. He became a professor at the University of Wisconsin, training a generation of Western Buddhist scholars and was a towering figure in the transmission of Buddhism to the West. In this fifth and final volume of his commentary on Lama Tsongkhapa's masterwork on the graduated steps of the Buddhist path, Geshe Sopa explains the practice of superior insight or wisdom, the pinnacle of the bodhisattva's perfections. All the Buddhist practices are for the purpose of developing wisdom, for it is wisdom that liberates from the cycle of suffering. All other positive actions, from morality to deep states of meditation, have no power to liberate unless they are accompanied by insight into the nature of reality. With unparalleled precision, Geshe Sopa unpacks this central principle with scholarly virtuosity, guiding the reader through the progressive stages of realization. Designing Instruction Judith K. March, Karen H. Peters, 2008 A fresh new approach that strengthens the need for teaching with creative thinking strategies for administrative leadership teams. Few textbooks have such detailed examples combined with the background study of best practices. The authors have great credibility, experience, resources, and abundant research to support their proposal. A very well-written text offering ample review of the research. Sara E. Spruce, Professor of Education, Olivet Nazarene University. Use this research-based instructional model to meet students' achievement goals. As the achievement gap between advantaged and disadvantaged students gets wider, teachers and administrators need a proven process to help all students meet the requirements of NCLB. This practitioner-friendly guidebook provides a step-by-step approach to a complete standards-based curriculum and the integration of best practices into the delivery and assessment of instruction in every classroom. The authors present three capacity-building features of the design process: 1. training for building leadership teams to help teachers plan and lead the reform process; 2. stewardship training to assist district administrators and principals in supporting and sustaining the implemented reforms; and 3. a collaborative observation process to help teachers work together and in partnership with principals to monitor and improve classroom instruction. Offering an education model that has been field-tested with more than 50 school districts in the U.S. and Canada, this book shows school leaders how to maximize collaborative observation and other team leadership processes to integrate reforms into a school's existing culture. Educators will learn ways to integrate instructional design with successful instructional reform. Strengthen the learning culture through standards. Develop effective performance indicators. Apply curriculum mapping to instructional design. Designing Instruction supports teachers and administrators working together to raise student achievement by using proven instructional design and best practices. Justice and the Politics of Difference Iris Marion Young, 2011-08-22 In this classic work of feminist political thought, Iris Marion Young challenges the prevailing reduction of social justice to distributive justice It critically analyzes basic concepts underlying most theories of justice including impartiality formal equality and the unitary moral subjectivity The starting point for her critique is the experience and concerns of the new social movements about decision making cultural expression and division of labor that were created by marginal and excluded groups including women African Americans and American Indians as well as gays and lesbians Iris Young defines concepts of domination and oppression to cover issues eluding the distributive model Democratic theorists according to Young do not adequately address the problem of an inclusive participatory framework By assuming a homogeneous public they fail to consider institutional arrangements for including people not culturally identified with white European male norms of reason and respectability Young urges that normative theory and public policy should undermine group based oppression by affirming rather than suppressing social group difference Basing her vision of the good society on the differentiated culturally plural network of contemporary urban life she argues for a principle of group representation in democratic publics and for group differentiated policies Danielle Allen s new foreword contextualizes Young s work and explains how debates surrounding social justice have changed since and been transformed by the original publication of Justice and the Politics of Difference

Horace and Seneca Martin Stöckinger, Kathrin Winter, Andreas T. Zanker, 2017-12-04 This volume sets out to explore the complex relationship between Horace and Seneca It is the first book that examines the interface between these different and yet highly comparable authors with consideration of their uvres in their entirety The fourteen chapters collected here explore a wide range of topics clustered around the following four themes the combination of literature and philosophy the ways in which Seneca s choral odes rework Horatian material and move beyond it the treatment of ethical poetic and aesthetic questions by the two authors and the problem of literary influence and reception as well as ancient and modern reflections on these problems While the intertextual contacts between Horace and Seneca themselves lie at the core of this project it also considers the earlier texts that serve as sources for both authors intermediary steps in Roman literature and later texts where connections between the two philosopher poets are drawn Although not as obviously palpable as the linkage between authors who share a common generic tradition this uneven but pervasive relationship can be regarded as one of the most prolific literary interactions between the early Augustan and the Neronian periods A bidirectional list of correspondences between Horace and Seneca concludes the volume

Statistics for Criminology and Criminal Justice Jacinta M. Gau, 2018-02-09 It is a great textbook for undergrads who are being exposed to statistics in the field for the first time and for Master s students who need a better grasp of the fundamentals of statistics before taking more advanced courses Calli M Cain University of Nebraska at Omaha A must have textbook for Instructors and students alike in the fields of Criminology and Criminal Justice The book is user friendly Bonny Mhlanga Western Illinois University An Introduction to Statistics in Criminology and Criminal Justice Statistics for Criminology and Criminal Justice Third Edition demonstrates how statistics is relevant to a student's life and future career by illustrating the logical connections between basic statistical concepts and their real world implications in criminology and criminal justice. Written for students with a limited mathematical background, author Jacinta Gau eases student anxiety around statistics by simplifying the overarching goal of each statistical technique and providing step by step instructions for working through the formulas and numbers. Students use real data from the field to build a foundational knowledge of statistics rather than merely memorizing key terms or formulas. New to the Third Edition: NEW Thinking Critically feature encourages students to apply the concepts from the chapter to real life scenarios with open ended questions that are designed to inspire students to think about the nuances of science statistics and their application to criminal justice. Additional illustrations and examples in every chapter keep students engaged with the content and offer ample opportunities for them to practice the techniques. New and updated data sets from a wide range of relevant sources such as the NCVS and UCR BJS LEMAS the Census of Jails and much more have been incorporated to give students insights into the state of criminal justice research today. New research on critical topics encourages students to discuss changes happening in the field such as the Census of Jails inmate on staff assaults in prisons and homicide rates. Practicing Statistics Whiteboard Videos available in SAGE edge walk students through statistical calculations to reinforce key concepts. Previous edition errors have been corrected by a statistician. Give your students the SAGE edge. SAGE edge offers a robust online environment featuring an impressive array of free tools and resources for review, study and further exploration, keeping both instructors and students on the cutting edge of teaching and learning.

Evolutionary Computation in Economics and Finance Shu-Heng Chen, 2013-11-11 After a decade's development, evolutionary computation (EC) proves to be a powerful tool kit for economic analysis. While the demand for this equipment is increasing, there is no volume exclusively written for economists. This volume for the first time helps economists to get a quick grasp on how EC may support their research. A comprehensive coverage of the subject is given that includes the following three areas: game theory, agent-based economic modelling and financial engineering. Twenty leading scholars from each of these areas contribute a chapter to the volume. The reader will find himself treading the path of the history of this research area from the fledgling stage to the burgeoning era. The results on games, labour markets, pollution control, institution and productivity, financial markets, trading systems design and derivative pricing are new and interesting for different target groups. The book also includes information on web sites, conferences and computer software.

IAENG Transactions on Engineering Technologies Sio-Long Ao, 2012 This volume contains revised and extended research articles by prominent researchers.
