

Human Rights

Human rights are there to protect all people - no matter who they are, where they are from or how they choose to live their life.

Read the human rights in each box. Draw a picture of British life to show how the human right can be seen working in our country, for example, you might draw a picture of your family going on holiday for the human right 'freedom to move'.

Protected by the Law We all have a right to be treated fairly by the law.
Private Space We all have a right to privacy. Nobody has the right to come into our home or bother us or our family without a good reason.
Freedom of Movement We all have a right to go where we want to and work, study and to travel as we wish.
Freedom of Thought We all have a right to believe in what we want, to have a religion or not, have as many friends as we want.
Equal Treatment We all have a right to a good life and all people have the right to be treated fairly.

Human Rights Lesson Grade 5:

Common Core Nicholas Tampio, 2018-03-01 How the Common Core standardizes our kids education and how it threatens our democracy The Common Core State Standards Initiative is one of the most controversial pieces of education policy to emerge in decades Detailing what and when K 12 students should be taught it has led to expensive reforms and displaced other valuable ways to educate children In this nuanced and provocative book Nicholas Tampio argues that though national standards can raise the education bar for some students the democratic costs outweigh the benefits To make his case Tampio describes the history philosophy content and controversy surrounding the Common Core standards for English language arts and math He also explains and critiques the Next Generation Science Standards the Advanced Placement US History curriculum framework and the National Sexuality Education Standards Though each set of standards has admirable elements Tampio asserts that democracies should disperse education authority rather than entrust one political or pedagogical faction to decide the country's entire philosophy of education Ultimately this lively and accessible book presents a compelling case that the greater threat to democratic education comes from centralized government control rather than from local education authorities Resources in Education ,2001-04 Turning on Learning Carl A. Educating for Peace in a Time of "permanent War" Paul R. Carr, Bradley J. Porfilio, 2012 What is the meaning of peace why should we study it and how should we achieve it Although there are an increasing number of manuscripts curricula and initiatives that grapple with some strand of peace education there is nonetheless a dearth of critical cross disciplinary international projects books that examine peace education in conjunction with war and conflict Within this volume the authors contend that war military conflict violence are not a nebulous far away mysterious venture rather they argue that we are all collectively involved in perpetrating and perpetuating militarization conflict violence inside and outside of our own social circles Therefore education about and against war can be as liberating as it is necessary If war equates killing can our schools avoid engaging in the examination of what war is all about If education is not about peace then is it about war Can a society have education that willfully avoids considering peace as its central objective Can a democracy exist if pivotal notions of war and peace are not understood practiced advocated and ensconced in public debate These questions according to Carr and Porfilio and the contributors they have assembled merit a critical and extensive reflection This book seeks to provide a range of epistemological policy pedagogical curriculum and institutional analyses aimed at facilitating meaningful engagement toward a more robust and critical examination of the role that schools play and can play in framing war militarization and armed conflict and significantly the connection to peace Education Manitoba ,1988 National Compendium of Televised Education Lawrence E. McKune,1967 Third International Handbook of Globalisation, Education and Policy Research Joseph Zajda,2021-09-17 This handbook presents a global overview of current research in education and education policy reforms during the last decade It provides an accessible practical and comparative source of current research that examines the intersecting and diverse discourses of this important issue It first examines globalisation education and policy research and reforms in higher education including coverage of main trends in education and policy reforms globally as well as specific policy issues such as gender equity minorities and human rights Next the handbook offers a comparative perspective that evaluates the ambivalent and problematic relationship between globalisation the state and education reforms globally It features coverage on curricula issues and education reforms in schools around the world the curriculum in the global culture as well as globalisation and education futures with respect to social justice and human rights The handbook contributes to a better and a more holistic understanding of the education reforms and research nexus offering possible strategies for the effective and pragmatic policy planning and implementation at the local regional and national levels It will serve as a vital sourcebook of ideas for researchers practitioners and policy makers in education ERIC Clearinghouse Publications ,1981 Canada and the World ,1966
