International General Certificate of Secondary Education

MARK SCHEME for the May/June 2013 series

0455 ECONOMICS

0455/21

Paper 2 (Structured Questions), maximum raw mark 80

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2013 series for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level components and some Ordinary Level components.

The Political Economy of Electricity Mark Cooper, 2017-04-24 Providing critical insights that will interest readers ranging from economists to environmentalists policymakers and politicians this book analyzes the economics and technology trends involved in the dilemma of decarbonization and addresses why aggressive policy is required in a capitalist political economy to create a sea change away from fossil fuels The environmental damage across the globe is a result of the success of capitalist industrialism 250 years of carbon pollution resulting from consumption of fossil fuels to drive the economy and the worldwide aspiration to ever increasing levels of economic development But capitalism has also produced the tools to solve the problems it has created in the form of a technological revolution in low carbon renewables distributed resources and intelligent systems to integrate supply and demand This book comprehensively examines the political economy of electricity and analyzes the challenge of transforming today s electricity sector to meet the dual goals of decarbonization and development expressed in the Paris Agreement Author Mark Cooper defines the dilemma of development and decarbonization as the great challenge facing the electricity industry and documents how the economic resources costs of a 100 percent renewable portfolio has declined to the point that decarbonization can pay for itself making the low carbon renewable technologies that enable desired environmental and public health benefits an easy sell He identifies the substantial benefit of increasing use of information communications and advanced control technologies shows how targeted innovation could speed the transition by a decade or two and lower the overall cost of the transition by as much as half and explains why the flexible multi stakeholder approach of the Paris Agreement is the correct approach 2024-25 TGT/PGT Economics Solved Papers YCT Expert Team , 2024 25 TGT PGT Economics Solved Papers

House of Commons - Energy and Climate Change Committee: Local Energy - HC 180 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Energy and Climate Change Committee, 2013-08-06 Government provides support to households who install small scale renewable energy systems through Feed in Tariffs FiT while large scale projects like off shore wind farms will soon be supported through new fixed price Contracts for Difference CfDs Medium sized energy projects of between 10 50 Megawatts MW currently fall in the gap and do not receive support Giving communities a stake in local energy projects has the potential to broaden public understanding of energy issues and could also enhance the security and efficiency of the energy system as a whole This report identifies a number of barriers that can prevent local energy projects getting off the ground Securing funding and Power Purchase Agreements connecting to the grid and overcoming public opposition can all prove difficult

Obtaining planning permission can be costly and time consuming and the risk of losing tens of thousands of pounds if permission is not granted is a huge obstacle for community groups or small cooperatives. Some form of support mechanism is needed alongside a comprehensive package of measures addressing finance, planning, grid access and advice. The Green Investment Bank could provide seed funding and project development funding for feasibility studies, grid permits etc to reduce some of the risk in getting projects through the planning process. Government needs to do more to encourage local authorities to identify suitable areas for renewable energy development and to develop clear guidance about what is expected from local energy projects. National level planning guidance should be provided on technical issues that hold up planning consent for wind turbines and other low carbon technologies.
