

WHAT IS MOTIVATION?

Motivation is that internal energy that drives us to act and pursue our goals and objectives.

It's like an emotional impulse that encourages us to strive, persist, and overcome obstacles in pursuit of what we desire.

Motivation can arise from different sources, such as the desire for success, passion for something that excites us, or the pursuit of personal satisfaction.

When we are motivated, we find purpose and meaning in our actions, and we feel inspired to give our best. Motivation helps us overcome procrastination and propels us towards achievement and personal growth.

leadership compensation and training affect work motivation and how work related values and goals are forged by the work environment and affect work outcomes Dictionary of Twentieth-Century British Philosophers Stuart Brown,2005-06-01

This is a two volume work with entries on individuals who made some contribution to philosophy in the period 1900 to 1960 or soon after The entries deal with the whole philosophical work of an individual or in the case of philosophers still living their whole work to date Typically the individuals included have been born by 1935 and by now have made their main contributions Contributions to the subject typically take the form of books or journal articles but influential teachers and people otherwise important in the world of philosophy may also be included The dictionary includes amateurs as well as professional philosophers and where appropriate thinkers whose main discipline was outside philosophy There are special problems about the term British in the twentieth century partly because of human migration partly because of decolonialization and the changing denotation of the term The intention has been to include not only those who were British subjects at least for a significant part of their lives even if they mostly lived outside what is now the U K but also people who spent a significant part of their lives in Britain itself irrespective of their nationality or country of origin In the first category are included for instance a number of people who were born and educated in Britain but who subsequently taught in universities abroad In the second category are included those who were born elsewhere but who came to Britain and contributed to its philosophical culture Make That Grade Organisational Behaviour Michele Kehoe,2013-08-16 New edition of this concise overview of organisational behaviour for quick reference or fast and effective exam revision Focussing on key themes and developments this enhanced edition applies theoretical concepts to real life situations highlights definitions and key concepts and provides chapter summaries and short revision questions for each topic Includes chapters on person perception attitudes in the workplace learning personality stress management leadership group dynamics organisational conflict and organisational communication Suitable for anyone who needs an overview of organisational behaviour for work or study Particularly relevant to students taking exams for Organisational Behavioural modules at college and university level and those taking short courses in Organisational Behaviour Front Line Management People Management and Human Resource Management Organizational Behaviour In Construction Anthony Walker,2011-06-20 The core of all successful organizations is the effectiveness with which people work together Individuals have differing characteristics and personalities and the manner in which they interact is the key to meeting organizational objectives This is the case for all organizations but particularly so in construction which is distinctly different from other industries Construction is complex and highly differentiated with a wide range of specialists with disparate professional skills working in a highly integrated way to deliver projects successfully Understanding how the people involved in construction behave and work together is necessary for projects to have successful outcomes Organizational behaviour is an established field in mainstream management literature but general treatments cannot reflect the specific issues and idiosyncrasies of the construction industry and the people who inhabit it Organizational Behaviour in Construction addresses the behaviour of individuals and groups within the different organizations which come together on construction projects and within the organizations created to manage projects It describes how their behaviour impacts on the performance of construction organizations and their contribution to the project as a whole Drawing on mainstream organizational literature but putting it into the specific context of construction and containing many illustrations drawn from the industry this book will be required reading for all senior undergraduate and postgraduate students of construction as well as middle and senior management in the industry

Animal Motivation Patrick Colgan, 2013-03-13 The topic of animal motivation deals with how and why animals engage in particular activities what mechanisms inside the animal generate behaviour how stimuli from the external environment influence these mechanisms and how this behaviour is beneficial to the animal The topic is thus central both to academic studies in psychology and zoology and to applied matters in domestic species Motivation has not been an area of great emphasis in the past 10 15 years but there is now a growing realization that it should receive greater attention Drawing on concepts and observations from a number of areas this book provides an overview of the motivational processes which determine the choices timing and sequencing which are characteristic of animal behaviour Data and theory from ethology psychology and evolutionary biology are synthesized into a contemporary framework for analysing such central features of behaviour as persistence in activities and goal orientation Principles of motivational analysis are discussed and illustrated with specific case studies The successive chapters deal with ethological physiological and ecological approaches involving experimental work on a diversity of vertebrate and invertebrate species Ethological topics include the interaction of external stimuli and internal states mechanisms of choice quantitative models of motivation conflict between tendencies for different activities and behavioural homeostasis The review of physiological research focuses on hunger the activating roles of nerves and hormones and the examination of animals with small nervous systems Primordial Truth and Postmodern Theology

The Grasp That Reaches beyond the Grave Venetria K. Patton,2013-06-20 The Grasp That Reaches beyond the Grave investigates the treatment of the ancestor figure in Toni Cade Bambara s The Salt Eaters Paule Marshall s Praisesong for the Widow Phyllis Alesia Perry s Stigmata and A Sunday in June Toni Morrison s Beloved Tananarive Due s The Between and Julie Dash s film Daughters of the Dust in order to understand how they draw on African cosmology and the interrelationship of ancestors elders and children to promote healing within the African American community Venetria K Patton suggests that the experience of slavery with its concomitant view of black women as natally dead has impacted African American women writers emphasis on elders and ancestors as they seek means to counteract notions of black women as somehow disconnected from the progeny of their wombs This misperception is in part addressed via a rich kinship system which includes the living and the dead Patton notes an uncanny connection between depictions of elder ancestor and child figures in these texts and Kongo cosmology These references suggest that these works are examples of Africanisms or African retentions which continue to impact African American culture
