Human Rights

Melissa Aldridge

Description

During a study of Eleanor Roosevelt, the class examines -The United Nations' Declaration of Human Rights- in order to gain an understanding of the document and to create a list of rights for the classroom.

Objectives

The student understands what constitutes personal, political, and economic rights and the major documentary sources of these rights.

Materials

- Pencils
- Paper
- Chart paper
- Sticky-tac
- Markers
- Copies of -The United Nations' Universal Declaration of Human Rights- (at least one for every two students)
- Access to the Internet

Preparations

1. Make copies of the document.
2. Become familiar with the web site if using.
3. Gather materials listed.

Procedures

1. During a study of Eleanor Roosevelt, students discuss the difficulties of the time period in which she lived. Examples include unemployment, poverty, injustice, etc.
2. Distribute copies of -The United Nations' Universal Declaration of Human Rights.- It is helpful to have at least one for every two students.
This document can be accessed at the Web site : <http://www.udhr50.org/education/default.htm> (see Weblinks below)
This site contains the document in several versions as well as other information and educational links. Optional: The site can be explored in class via a computer linked to a large screen TV, or students can view it individually or in a computer lab.

Third International Handbook of Globalisation, Education and Policy

Research Joseph Zajda, 2021-09-17 This handbook presents a global overview of current research in education and education policy reforms during the last decade. It provides an accessible practical and comparative source of current research that examines the intersecting and diverse discourses of this important issue. It first examines globalisation, education and policy research and reforms in higher education, including coverage of main trends in education and policy reforms globally as well as specific policy issues such as gender equity, minorities and human rights. Next, the handbook offers a comparative perspective that evaluates the ambivalent and problematic relationship between globalisation, the state and education reforms globally. It features coverage on curricula issues and education reforms in schools around the world, the curriculum in the global culture as well as globalisation and education futures with respect to social justice and human rights. The handbook contributes to a better and a more holistic understanding of the education reforms and research nexus, offering possible strategies for the effective and pragmatic policy planning and implementation at the local, regional and national levels. It will serve as a vital sourcebook of ideas for researchers, practitioners and policy makers in education.
